

TWO SOLDIERS ARE ARRESTED FOR CAR THEFT

Admit To Officer Shealer, After Hiding All Night, That They Stole Car.

Gettysburg's night officer, Paul B. Shealer, believes in "getting his man" or men, as was the case early this morning.

After Harold C. Yonkin, 22, and James R. Dolan, 23, who said they were soldiers stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, near Baltimore, abandoned an alleged stolen automobile in an alley in the rear of the furniture factory offices, they hid in the weeds and tall grass in the vicinity of the Burgoon and Yingling canning factory.

Hide Until Dawn

The pair left the car and took to their heels about 1:30 o'clock this morning, and remained in hiding until daylight, when they emerged from their grassy resting place, stiff and covered with dew. That was at 5:30 o'clock, but Officer Shealer had appointed himself as a committee to receive them, and he promptly took them into custody.

The pair said they had been given a leave of absence from the Maryland camp, and had stolen the automobile, in which they were riding, in front of the Gayety theater in Baltimore, the officer said.

Officer Gives Chase

The night officer's attention was attracted to the car as it sped around center square, with only one headlight burning. He blew his whistle, but the car continued east on York street. Officer Shealer and Edgar Shealer gave chase in another machine, finally coming upon the abandoned Maryland car behind the furniture factory office.

The pair will be turned over to the Maryland authorities today.

Make Plans for State Convention

A meeting for members of the Adams county Sunday School association, including ministers, superintendents, teachers and others, will be held at St. James' Lutheran church Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock when plans for the forthcoming state Sunday School association convention to be held at Philadelphia, October 10, 11 and 12, will be discussed.

H. C. Heckerman, first vice president of the state organization, and R. Stanley Kendig, a member of the field staff of the state association, will address the meeting.

Adams county has been allotted fifty delegates for the state convention.

LOCAL MAN WEDS THIS AFTERNOON

Miss Margaret I. Welty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Welty, Greencastle, and Clyde E. Williams, son of Mrs. A. D. Weikert, Gettysburg, were married this afternoon at 2 o'clock, by the Rev. Mr. Francis, at Waynesboro.

The bride wore a dress of white baronette satin trimmed with chantilly lace and a white hat to match.

Immediately after the ceremony the newlyweds left on a motor trip to Cumberland and points of interest in the south.

The bride is well known in Gettysburg, having a wide circle of friends in this vicinity and in Waynesboro.

After the honeymoon, the young couple will be at home to their friends, 35 Hanover street, after September 8. The groom is employed at the Gettysburg furniture factory.

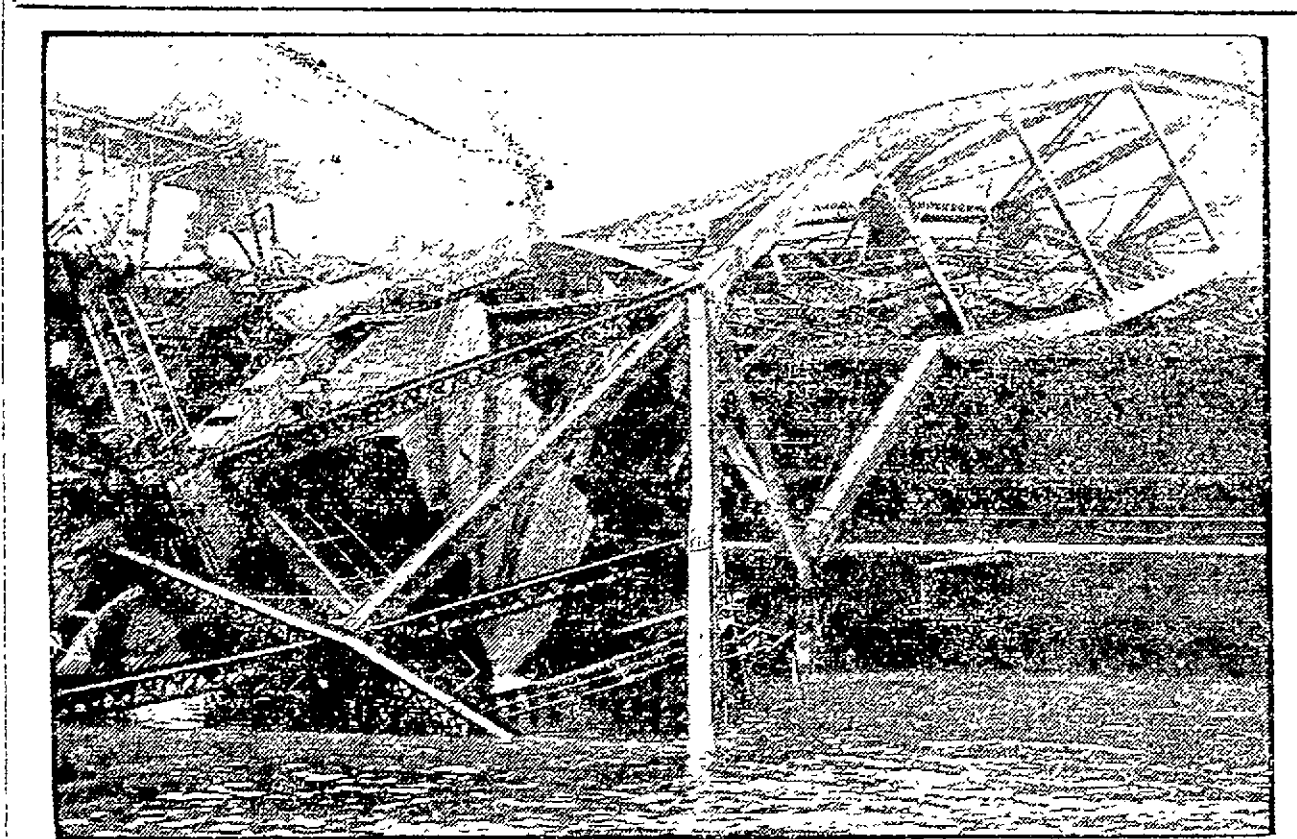

WEATHER FOR WEEK

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Weather outlook for the week beginning Monday, North and Middle Atlantic states: Some cloudiness Monday. Mostly fair thereafter, except showers about Thursday. Temperature near normal Monday and Tuesday. Slightly below normal Wednesday. Warmer Thursday and cooler at end of week.

FARM WEATHER REPORT

Eastern Pennsylvania: Partly cloudy - tonight and Sunday. Slightly warmer Sunday in north portion.

One Sock From the Storm God's Fist Did This Damage, Recently, in Chicago

Struck by lightning during terrific storm, there wasn't an awful lot left of this bridge in the plant of the Youngstown Steel & Tube company, Chicago. Much of the structure fell into the Calumet river, shown in the foreground. No one was on the span when bolt landed. So consequently there was no loss of life.

NINE HIGHWAY MARKERS FIXED

Boy Scouts and Members of Two Service Clubs Participate In Work.

Nine concrete markers designating the route of the Lincoln Highway through Gettysburg were erected at 1 o'clock this afternoon by Boy Scouts, assisted by members of the Rotary and Lions' clubs. The placing of the local standards was part of an arrangement by which the road was permanently marked and dedicated to the memory of President Lincoln from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The holes were dug in advance by employees of the Peters cement products company, and afterward workmen of the concern set the standards in concrete.

Concrete Standards

The service club members, who assisted the scouts in placing the posts, were William H. Tipton, John Spangler, S. G. Spencer, Henry M. Scharf, John W. Brehm, D. J. Forney, L. L. Taylor, George L. Taylor and Howard Mittinger.

Two markers were erected in center square, and others were placed near the Oyler and Spangler fertilizer works, at 239 York street, at the Meade school, at 155 York street, at the Lincoln school and one at Reynolds avenue.

Similar markers have been set up along the highway in Adams county. Three Scouts assisted at each marker location.

East Berlin Has Large Enrollment

The East Berlin schools opened Monday with the largest enrollment. 150 pupils, in their history. The primary room taught by Miss Beulah Wentz has an enrollment of 32 beginners and first and second grade pupils. The intermediate room taught by Miss Miriam Cashman enrolled 40 third, fourth and fifth grade pupils. The grammar room taught by Luther Yohe has an enrollment of 35 sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils. The high school taught by the Rev. J. Harold Little and Miss Kathryn Wilson has an enrollment of 52 pupils with 22 pupils in the freshman class. All the seniors are back, 18 in number, and 12 juniors. Many improvements to the school in the way of new seats for the grade schools and new drinking fountains have been made during the vacation season.

STOCK REPORT

New York, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Heavy week-end profit taking interrupted the resumption of the strong upward price movement on the New York stock exchange today, but not until after more than a score of issues had been lifted to new high ground. Early gains ranged from 1 to 6 points, with trading in enormous volume. Motor stocks were heavily bought. The closing was firm.

PUBLIC AUCTION: all goods remaining on our stands at 11 o'clock this evening will be sold at Public Auction by Mr. Adams, auctioneer of Waynesboro. Novelties, blankets, toys, fancy articles, etc. will be offered. Father Sullivan, Blue Ridge Summit.

FREE PEEPS, BUT- EXPECT THROG HERE ON MONDAY

Newport, R. I., Sept. 1.—(AP)—The story of how four members of the summer colony here found a "Peeping Tom" watching their sunbaths on Second Beach and administered a beating to him instead of having him arrested was leaked today.

Mrs. Robert D. Huntington, daughter of Mrs. Moses Taylor; Mrs. Hartman Russell, daughter of Mrs. J. Borden Hartman, and Miss Edith Woodward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Woodward, all prominent in the social life of New York and Newport, accompanied by a fourth member of the summer colony whose name could not be learned, have been in the habit of taking sunbaths on Second Beach.

The four had suspected, however, that their visits to the beach had not been unobserved, and this suspicion was confirmed when they went to the beach Thursday.

A man appeared, driving a motor car bearing a Pennsylvania license plate. As he came over the dunes he was surrounded by the four young women, who proceeded to tell him what they thought of him. Suddenly one of the four swung her fist and struck him in the face. This example was immediately followed by the other three, and the man was knocked to the ground.

He was well beaten, the shirt was torn from his back, and as a crowning indignity he was carried to the ocean and thrown into the surf with what clothes remained on him. There they left him and departed.

CHILDREN GIVE PIANO RECITAL

A children's piano recital was given at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, at the home of Miss Esther Bigham, Biglerville, who has conducted a class in piano instruction during the summer. Miss Bigham will be graduated from the Oberlin conservatory of music, Oberlin, Ohio, next spring.

The following program was given: "The Little French Doll," Miss Dorothy Walton; "The Lullaby," by Miss Betty Bucher; "Giant Steps and Elfland Horns," Edmund Rice; "Playful Kittens," Miss Eleanor Dill; "The Dance of the Marionettes," Miss Jane Rice; "The Fairy," Miss Evelyn Thomas; "The Morning Song," Miss Virginia Bucher; "The Doll's Music Box," Miss Nancy Dill, and "The Sleeping Garden," Miss Anna Miller.

Southern Farmers To Visit Orchards

Fifty farmers from the vicinity of Raleigh, North Carolina, will visit the Gettysburg battlefield and Adams county's fruit orchards next Wednesday. The visitors will travel by bus, and will spend Wednesday night in camp at Arendtsville union park. The party will be in charge of John C. Anderson, farm agent of Raleigh.

MOVE INTO NEW HOME

L. D. Shealer and family have moved from Chambersburg street to their new home at 449 West Middle street extended.

We are receiving apples at our Biglerville plant. The C. H. Musselman Company, Biglerville.

EXPECT THROG HERE ON MONDAY

Larger Factories to Observe Holiday: Banks to Enjoy Day of Rest.

While many Gettysburgians are planning outings for Monday, the town is preparing to entertain the usual Labor Day throng of tourists. A noticeable increase in the volume of motor traffic through Gettysburg was apparent today, and toward late afternoon hotels and lodging houses began to fill up rapidly.

The three Gettysburg furniture factories, the Eagle silk mill, the Sure Foot Heel and Rubber company and other local industries have declared a holiday for their employees, Monday. All banks, offices at the court house and most of the local stores will observe Labor Day as a holiday.

There will be no window service or rural mail delivery from the Gettysburg postoffice. One early morning delivery will be made by the city carriers.

HOOVER'S FIRST EASTERN TALK IS SET FOR NEWARK

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover will make his first eastern speech at Newark, N. J., about the middle of September. Labor is expected to be the topic of the address, his third prepared one of the campaign, and negotiations are in progress for a nation-wide radio hookup.

While Hoover may make some other speeches in September he probably will defer his visit to New York city and Boston until October. His appearances in the south and in the border states still are under consideration.

Navy Dirigible Circles Sunbury

Sunbury, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The navy dirigible Los Angeles arrived here at 12:20 p. m. and after circling the city twice headed southeast toward Reading. Two navy planes here for the dedication of the Wesley L. Smith airport ascended and escorted the dirigible over the city.

The visit of the dirigible was the first event on the program of dedication ceremonies.

Potatoes, Salad, Cucumbers Do Not Mix; 12 Poisoned

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 1.—(AP)—More than a dozen employees of the Security Insurance company who ate lunch in the company's cafeteria yesterday are being treated for poisoning today. In each case the patient is said to have eaten potato salad which contained cucumbers and to have topped off the meal with ice cream.

COMMUNION SUNDAY

Services will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Prince of Peace Episcopal church, Baltimore street. Communion will be given. The Rev. T. N. Null is pastor.

GIRL BRIDE OF WEEK AND AGED HUSBAND BREAK

65-Year-Old Detroit Man and 19-Year-Old Girl, Wedded In County, Separated.

Married by the Rev. Father W. W. Whalen, rector of St. Ignatius Catholic church, Buchanan Valley, August 22, described by the bridegroom as "The most romantic spot in the world," Victor Mitchell, head of the department of journalism at the University of Detroit, and his wife, formerly Miss Marcelle Hofweber, of Detroit, have been separated after a week of married life.

Mr. Mitchell, former managing editor of the London Ontario, Advertiser, and later associate editor of the Dearborn Independent, and Mrs. Hofweber eloped from Detroit August 20 in spite of the efforts of the girl's parents to stop them.

Valley Girls Skeptical

They came direct to Buchanan Valley and were married by the Rev. Father Whalen. "Mr. Mitchell had visited me earlier in the summer and proposed to some of our Buchanan Valley girls, but none of them would have him," the Rev. Father Whalen said recently.

Today Mr. Mitchell was in a Detroit police station where he is being held for federal authorities in connection with his entry into the United States from Canada. His wife is at the home of her parents. When the couple returned from their honeymoon, Mr. Hofweber appeared, declaring Mr. Mitchell, who was married before, is 65, and his daughter, 19.

Mr. Mitchell, in telling of his romance, said that he had known Father Whalen for a number of years, and when he visited him, had told him that if he ever married again he would go to Buchanan Valley. "It is an ideal spot for a honeymoon," he said.

Police say Mr. Mitchell was taken into custody for his alleged failure to pay his head tax when he entered the United States in 1925. He said he had served with the Scotch Highlanders in the World War.

Romance Tender Flower

When asked what he intended to do toward resuming the romance so rudely interrupted, Mr. Mitchell shrugged his shoulders and said regretfully: "As I have said, romance is a tender flower, and may easily be crushed at any time. What can I do?"

Tom Mix Freed on Charge of Assault

Los Angeles, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Tom Mix, film actor, was found not guilty Friday on a charge of assault and battery in connection with a fight between him and Will Morrissey, a stage comedian. The judge ruled Mix had been justified in using force against Morrissey, and that although he may have struck the actor's wife, Midgie Morrissey, he apparently had done so accidentally.

The decision closed the docket of the last of the court affairs resulting from the fight between Mix and Morrissey at a housewarming party given by a friend.

The Morrisseys were arrested on a charge of drunkenness when they went to a police station after the fight, but lack of evidence freed them.

Highway Walker Is Killed Today At Chambersburg

Chambersburg, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Jacob S. Stoner, a retired farmer, was fatally injured today by an automobile driven by Harry Berse, of Pittsburgh. Stoner was walking to a mail box along the Lincoln Highway when he was struck. He was taken to the Chambersburg hospital where he died.

PROBE AIMEE'S DEALS

Enough Produce Left, After Three Hours of Selling, to Start Second Market Session

Three hours after curb market opened this morning, one farmer said there was still enough produce left to stage another good-sized market. His observation was altogether true, for late-comers were able to purchase what the "early birds" thought they alone were being favored with.

Market was well patronized in the early morning hours, but the extensive buying made little impression in the abundant offerings of fruits, berries and vegetables.

Peaches were especially plentiful, selling from $1 to $1.75 a bushel, with a top price of $2 a bushel for choice Hales and Elbertas. Summer Rambo apples sold as high as $2 a bushel, with other varieties bringing from $1.25 a bushel upwards.

Prices of other commodities follow: Corn, 20 cents a dozen; plums $2 a bushel; potatoes, 75 cents and $1 a bushel; nuckleberries, 25 cents a quart; eggs, 40 cents a dozen; string beans, 10 cents a quarter-peck; lima beans, 30 and 35 cents a quart; white grapes, 10 cents a quart; dressed chickens, 85 cents to $2 each; spring chickens, live weight, 32 and 35 cents a pound; tomatoes, 75 cents a basket; blackberries, 20 cents a box; peaches, $1.50 to $2 a bushel; elderberries, 5 cents a quart.

Red beets, squash, carrots, rhubarb, honey and home made pastries were plentiful, with no change in prices.

CHARLES READY SENTENCED TO FOR AIR DERBY SUPPORT CHILD

Plane to be Christened at Gettysburg Airport Tomorrow Afternoon at 1 O'clock.

Equipped with new wings, its motor tuned to a fine edge and its pilot, Paul Charles, anxious to get started, the Gettysburg entry in the national transcontinental air derby is in fine shape for its christening Sunday afternoon at one o'clock at the Gettysburg Airport.

Next Wednesday morning at dawn, more than 80 fliers, the cream of cross-continent pilots, dare-devils of the flying game, will be put under-way on the long grind to the Pacific coast, their first destined stop being Middletown, just outside of Harrisburg.

Sunday afternoon, Gettysburgians and Adams countians will send their own pilot on his way to New York for the start of the race. They will be given an opportunity to wish the 21-year-old pilot "lot of luck" while kindled in their breasts will be the wish and hope that the "kid" will come through with flying colors, on top of the heap, thus adding to the fame and glory of Gettysburg. Charles will leave the Gettysburg airport Sunday afternoon, immediately after the christening at 1 o'clock.

Pitted Against Veterans

Pitted against this youthful aviator will be men who have devoted many years toward the progress of flying. Many of the entrants are men who have crossed the continent several times, and are familiar with the route to be traversed.

Pilot Paul Charles has never crossed the continent. He will depend upon his maps, his instruments, and his flying judgment to carry him through. He has done considerable flying throughout the east, having recently flown to New York from Gettysburg in record flying time. He has made numerous other trips, over mountains and other strange country, and has always come through without mishap, showing unusually good flying judgment.

In the transcontinental contest, he will be put to his most severe test and Gettysburg is looking to him for new laurels.

He will be given a rousing send-off tomorrow afternoon.

Church Social Is Largely Attended

More than 150 persons, members and friends of the Jacob's Reformed church, near Fountain Dale, attended a social held at the church recently. Games on the lawn followed a program, consisting of devotions, songs, readings and a short address, by the young people of the congregation.

At the conclusion of the play hour, refreshments were served on the church lawn, where a long table had been placed.

Virginians Here To Attend Picnic

Families of Virginians and West Virginians who have moved to Adams county are planning a basket picnic to be held at Spangler's Spring, Saturday, September 8. Those in charge of the affair are urging residents of Adams county to join with the "invaders" in order that all may become better acquainted.

SWOPE CLAIMS COURT BIASED IN HIS CHARGE

Defense Counsel In Murder Trial Files 8 Reasons in Motion for New Trial.

Eight reasons in support of a motion for a new trial for Mrs. Helen D. Eiker, convicted here, Thursday, of murder in the second degree for the slaying of her husband, Percy, were filed in the court of oyer and terminer shortly before noon today by J. Donald Swope, the 20-year-old woman's counsel.

Mr. Swope also reserves the right to file additional reasons in support of his motion for a new trial and the stay of sentence when the court's charge to the jury and the testimony in the case has been reduced from the stenographic notes.

Mr. Swope's action prevents sentence from being pronounced on Mrs. Eiker until Judge D. P. McPherson acts upon the reasons in support of a new trial. Should the court refuse a new trial, it is considered likely that an appeal to a superior court will be taken.

Says Court Was Unfair

Mr. Swope's reasons in support of his motion for a new trial follow:

"The charge of the court to the jury was unfair to the defense and biased in favor of the prosecution.

"The charge of the court on the facts consisted of an argument in favor of the theory advanced by the commonwealth.

"The charge of the court contained arguments in support of the theory of the commonwealth which were not mentioned or argued by the prosecuting attorney.

"The charge of the court ridiculed the testimony of the defense witnesses and ridiculed the theory and arguments of the defense.

"The court erred in stating to the jury that 'the only reasonable explanation is that the hole in the cover was made while it was over Percy and while he was asleep.'

Charges Several Errors

"The court erred in charging in stating to the jury that 'now, these questions were simple questions.'

"The court erred in overruling defense's offer to prove by Dr. McCutcheon that advanced tuberculosis, such as the defendant was suffering from at the time of the alleged shooting, would affect her nervous system and mentality and cause her to adopt as reasonable, a course of procedure which would not suggest itself to a normally well person.

PLAYS WEDDING MARCH ABROAD; MARRIED IN U. S.

Colony, Switzerland, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The radio telephone is to be called into unusual service when it will be used to transmit the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played in Switzerland, across the Atlantic, for a marriage at Manchester, Mass.

When Miss Annie Bolen Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bennett, is wed in America to William Chase Paulson, of the Coldstream Guards, Ernest Schelling will play the Mendelssohn composition on his piano in the Villa Garango. The music will pass over a telephone wire to London and thence by radio to Manchester. There it is to be amplified so that all the guests can hear it as the wedding procession starts.

Schelling, a pupil of Paderewski, is an American citizen of Swiss origin.

CHANGE CHURCH HOUR

Sunday school will be held at Friends' Grove Brethren church at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, instead of 9:30 a. m. as previously announced.

GOOD EVENING

The acceptance speeches are over; We can now enjoy other bedtime stories.

Whalen, rector of St. Ignatius Catholic church, Buchanan Valley, August 22, described by the bridegroom as "the most romantic spot in the world," Victor Mitchell, head of the department of journalism at the University of Detroit, and his wife, formerly Miss Marcella Hofweber, of Detroit, have been separated after a week of married life.

Mr. Mitchell, former managing editor of the London, Ontario, Advertiser, and later associate editor of the Dearborn Independent, and Miss Hofweber eloped from Detroit August 20 in spite of the efforts of the girl's parents to stop them.

Valley Girls Skeptical

They came direct to Buchanan Valley and were married by the Rev. Father Whalen. "Mr. Mitchell had visited me earlier in the summer and proposed to some of our Buchanan Valley girls, but none of them would have him," the Rev. Father Whalen said recently.

Today Mr. Mitchell was in a Detroit police station where he is being held for federal authorities in connection with his entry into the United States from Canada. His wife is at the home of her parents. When the couple returned from their honeymoon, Mr. Hofweber appeared, declaring Mr. Mitchell, who was married before, is 65, and his daughter, 19.

Liked Buchanan Valley

Mr. Mitchell, in telling of his romance, said that he had known Father Whalen for a number of years, and when he visited him, had told him that if he ever married again he would go to Buchanan Valley. "It is an ideal spot for a honeymoon," he said.

Police say Mr. Mitchell was taken into custody for his alleged failure to pay his head tax when he entered the United States in 1925. He said he had served with the Scotch Highlanders in the World War.

Romance Tender Flower

When asked what he intended to do toward resuming the romance so rudely interrupted, Mr. Mitchell shrugged his shoulders and said regretfully: "As I have said, romance is a tender flower, and may easily be crushed at any time. What can I do?"

Tom Mix Freed on Charge of Assault

Los Angeles, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Tom Mix, film actor, was found not guilty Friday on a charge of assault and battery in connection with a fight between him and Will Morrissey, a stage comedian. The judge ruled Mix had been justified in using force against Morrissey, and that although he may have struck the actor's wife, Midgie Morrissey, he apparently had done so accidentally.

The decision closed the docket of the last of the court affairs resulting from the fight between Mix and Morrissey at a housewarming party given by a friend.

The Morrisseys were arrested on a charge of drunkenness when they went to a police station after the fight, but lack of evidence freed them.

Highway Walker Is Killed Today At Chambersburg

Chambersburg, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Jacob S. Stoner, a retired farmer, was fatally injured today by an automobile driven by Harry Berse, of Pittsburgh. Stoner was walking to a mail box along the Lincoln Highway when he was struck. He was taken to the Chambersburg hospital where he died.

PROBE AIMEE'S DEALS

Three hours after curb market opened this morning, one farmer said there was still enough produce left to stage another good-sized market. His observation was altogether true, for late-comers were able to purchase what the "early birds" thought they alone were being favored with.

Market was well patronized in the early morning hours, but the extensive buying made little impression in the abundant offerings of fruits, berries and vegetables.

Peaches were especially plentiful, selling from $1 to $1.75 a bushel, with a top price of $2 a bushel for choice Hales and Elbertas. Summer Rambo apples sold as high as $2 a bushel, with other varieties bringing from $1.25 a bushel upwards.

Prices of other commodities follow: Corn, 20 cents a dozen; plums $2 a bushel; potatoes, 75 cents and $1 a bushel; huckleberries, 25 cents a quart; eggs, 40 cents a dozen; string beans, 10 cents a quarter-peck; lima beans, 30 and 35 cents a quart; white grapes, 10 cents a quart; dressed chickens, 85 cents to $2 each; spring chickens, live weight, 32 and 35 cents a pound; tomatoes, 75 cents a basket; blackberries, 20 cents a box; pears, $1.50 to $2 a bushel; elderberries, 5 cents a quart.

Red beets, squash, carrots, rhubarb, honey and home made pastries were plentiful, with no change in prices.

CHARLES READY FOR AIR DERBY

Plane to be Christened at Gettysburg Airport Tomorrow Afternoon at 1 O'clock.

Equipped with new wings, its motor tuned to a fine edge and its pilot, Paul Charles, anxious to get started, the Gettysburg entry in the national transcontinental air derby is in fine shape for its christening Sunday afternoon at one o'clock at the Gettysburg Airport.

Next Wednesday morning at dawn, more than 80 fliers, the cream of cross-continent pilots, dare-devils of the flying game, will put under-way on the long grind to the Pacific coast, their first destined stop being Middletown, just outside of Harrisburg.

Sunday afternoon, Gettysburgians and Adams countyans will send their own pilot on his way to New York for the start of the race. They will be given an opportunity to wish the 21-year-old pilot "lot of luck" while kindled in their breasts will be the wish and hope that the "kid" will come through with flying colors, on top of the heap, thus adding to the fame and glory of Gettysburg. Charles will leave the Gettysburg airport Sunday afternoon, immediately after the christening at 1 o'clock.

Pitted Against Veterans

Pitted against this youthful aviator will be men who have devoted many years toward the progress of flying. Many of the entrants are men who have crossed the continent several times, and are familiar with the route to be traversed.

Pilot Paul Charles has never crossed the continent. He will depend upon his maps, his instruments, and his flying judgment to carry him through. He has done considerable flying throughout the east, having recently flown to New York from Gettysburg in record breaking time. He has made numerous other trips, over mountains and other strange country, and has always come through without mishap, showing unusually good flying judgment.

In the transcontinental contest he will be put to his most severe test and Gettysburg is looking to him for new laurels.

He will be given a rousing send-off tomorrow afternoon.

Church Social Is Largely Attended

More than 150 persons, members and friends of the Jacob's Reformed church, near Fountain Dale, attended a social held at the church recently. Games on the lawn followed a program, consisting of devotions, songs, readings and a short address, by the young people of the congregation.

At the conclusion of the play hour, refreshments were served on the church lawn, where a long table had been placed.

Virginians Here To Attend Picnic

Families of Virginians and West Virginians who have moved to Adams county are planning a basket picnic to be held at Spangler's Spring, Saturday, September 8. Those in charge of the affair are urging residents of Adams county to join with the "invaders" in order that all may become better acquainted.

SWOPE CLAIMS COURT BIASED IN HIS CHARGE

Defense Counsel In Murder Trial Files 8 Reasons in Motion for New Trial.

Eight reasons in support of a motion for a new trial for Mrs. Helen D. Eiker, convicted here, Thursday, of murder in the second degree for the slaying of her husband, Percy, were filed in the court of oyer and terminer shortly before noon today by J. Donald Swope, the 20-year-old woman's counsel.

Mr. Swope also reserves the right to file additional reasons in support of his motion for a new trial and the stay of sentence when the court's charge to the jury and the testimony in the case has been reduced from the stenographic notes.

Mr. Swope's action prevents sentence from being pronounced on Mrs. Eiker until Judge D. P. McPherson acts upon the reasons in support of a new trial. Should the court refuse a new trial, it is considered likely that an appeal to a superior court will be taken.

Says Court Was Unfair

Mr. Swope's reasons in support of his motion for a new trial follow:

"The charge of the court to the jury was unfair to the defense and biased in favor of the prosecution.

"The charge of the court on the facts consisted of an argument in favor of the theory advanced by the commonwealth.

"The charge of the court contained arguments in support of the theory of the commonwealth which were not mentioned or argued by the prosecuting attorney.

"The charge of the court ridiculed the testimony of the defense witnesses and ridiculed the theory and arguments of the defense.

"The court erred in stating to the jury that 'the only reasonable explanation is that the hole in the cover was made while it was over Percy and while he was asleep.'

Charges Several Errors

"The court erred in charging in stating to the jury that 'now, these questions were simple questions.'

"The court erred in overruling defense's offer to prove by Dr. McCutcheon that advanced tuberculosis, such as the defendant was suffering from at the time of the alleged shooting, would affect her nervous system and mentality and cause her to adopt as reasonable, a course of procedure which would not suggest itself to a normally well person.

PLAYS WEDDING MARCH ABROAD; MARRIED IN U. S.

Celony, Switzerland, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The radio telephone is to be called into unusual service when it will be used to transmit the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played in Switzerland, across the Atlantic, for a marriage at Manchester, Mass.

When Miss Annie Bolen Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bennett, is wed in America to William Chase Paulton, of the Coldstream Guards, Ernest Schelling will play the Mendelssohn composition on his piano in the Villa Garango. The music will pass over a telephone wire to London and thence by radio to Manchester. There it is to be amplified so that all the guests can hear it as the wedding procession starts.

Schelling, a pupil of Paderewski, is an American citizen of Swiss origin.

CHANGE CHURCH HOUR

Sunday school will be held at Friends' Grove Brethren church at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, instead of 7:30 a. m. as previously announced.

About Our Store

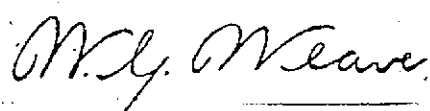

So you're going to college! There's a magic in that phrase. It has a "Merry Christmas", and a "Glorious Fourth of July" sort of sound.

Going to college is an adventure. It means new friends, new lessons and new experiences. And like everything else in life, no one can get the most out of college unless she feels she belongs.

A college girl's clothes are important. She does not need too many of them, but what she has must be right. There's where the Weaver Store can help. You can wear a Weaver Dress with the assurance that it is right.

We enjoy helping you get ready for college. Come in!

CHINESE WOULD REFORM THINGS

Weddings, Funerals, Dress and Other Matters Come in For Some Reforming.

Shanghai.—(AP)—Supplementing the nationalist government's program for the political and military renovation of China, instructions have been issued covering weddings, funerals, dress and other matters.

Everything must conform to the "democratizing" pattern of the new regime. The committee on ceremonial rites and national costumes reached an agreement on the following items:

"It was decided that ceremonial rites must be based on the principles of economy, simplicity, and appropriateness.

"An atmosphere of joy and happiness must prevail at weddings; that of sorrow at funerals and that of silent reverence at sacrificial ceremonies.

"Regarding national costumes, the committee announces that the principles of simplicity, beauty, convenience, hygiene and convenience be emphasized. Native material should be used extensively.

"National costumes will be divided into these classes: civilian, women, military, students, government officials, judicial officers and foreign affairs officials."

LEAGUE EMPLOYEES MUST BE DECOROUS ON BEACH

GENEVA—Girl secretaries and male employees of the League of Nations have adopted the custom of swimming in Lake Lemman, famous as the site of prehistoric lake dwellers' habitations.

The archives of Swiss museums do not reveal what kind of clothing the ancient Lacustrian people wore, but a storm of discussion arose over the question of whether modern bathers should wear one or two piece suits. Modesty won and the double garment is rigidly required.

Plate glass is about three times as heavy as sheet glass.

WINS TROUT PRIZE

Lock Haven, Pa.—(AP)—The prize awarded to the Clinton county sportsman catching the largest brown trout in a county stream was won this year by Thomas Snyder, of Mill Hall, whose prize catch was 27 inches long and weighed six pounds. The Dean B. Furst Memorial prize for the largest brook trout displayed here this season went to Lewis Smith, of Dunnstown, who hooked a 14 and 7-8 inch specimen while fishing in McElhattan Run.

Harry Thaw's Life Again Threatened

Pittsburgh, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Harry Thaw's life has been threatened again, this time in a letter to his aged mother, Mrs. William Thaw, demanding $5000 for her son's safety, it was learned today.

The news of this latest attempt to obtain money from the family of Stanford White's slayer was revealed when it was learned that William Beatty, a middle-aged man, taken into custody under somewhat mystifying circumstances, is being held by detectives in connection with the alleged extortion plot.

24 DROWN IN MONTH

Pittsburgh, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Twenty-four persons drowned in Allegheny county during August, the largest number of drownings ever recorded here in a single month, the coroner reported today.

SPECIAL SMUT TRAIN WILL BE RUN IN COUNTY

Reading Road to Assist State Farmers In Effort to Save Large Crop of Wheat.

To help reduce the enormous losses from stinking smut which last year took a toll of 1,400,000 bushels of wheat from Pennsylvania farmers, the Reading Railway, assisted by the Pennsylvania State college, will run a smut control train through 19 Pennsylvania counties and two New Jersey counties this month. For the convenience of Adams county farmers a stop will be made at Gettysburg, September 10.

Besides destroying an average of 1.4 bushels an acre last year, smut caused further loss in dockage. Buyers paid from 3 to 30 cents a bushel less for wheat that smelled smutty or that had more than two smutted kernels in 300 grains than for sound wheat. These discounts cost Pennsylvania farmers approximately $280,000 last year. In addition, thousands of bushels of wheat could not be sold at any price.

Train Well Equipped

The train is equipped with the latest and most modern machinery for the cleaning and treating of seed wheat. The only cost is about four cents a bushel for the copper carbonate dust used. This is paid to a local dealer, no charge being made by the railroad or the college for any services rendered. While the capacity of the train is 1000 bushels a day, the amount treated will be only a part of the total seeded in the state this fall. It is hoped by those in charge of the train, however, that local millers, grain dealers, and farmers will be aroused to the need of such smut control methods so that local provisions will take care of the situation in the future.

Application blanks and tickets have been mailed to a large number of farmers in the county and already about 400 bushels of the amount that can be treated at the Gettysburg stop has been signed up. Those farmers who did not get blanks and who wish to have their seed cleaned and treated on the train can secure the blanks and tickets by applying to R. E. Underwood, at the county agricultural extension association office in the court house.

All farmers are invited to take advantage of this opportunity to protect their wheat from the ravages of stinking smut. The disease can be controlled by the copper carbonate dust treatment and it is the hope of those in charge of the train that his effort will result in a large saving of the 1929 crop.

AMELIA CRACKS; IS NOT INJURED

First Woman Flier to Cross Atlantic Wrecks Plane in Landing at Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Miss Amelia Earhart, first woman to cross the Atlantic by air, escaped injury late Friday when her biplane, the Avian, crashed at Rodgers Field, George P. Putnam, New York publisher who flew with Miss Earhart from Rye, New York, also was unhurt.

In coming down, Miss Earhart's ship struck a rut, breaking the landing gear. The Avian turned over on its side, smashing the propeller and lower left wing. Miss Earhart was at the controls.

Her First Accident

It was said at the flying field that Miss Earhart will remain in or near Pittsburgh until her ship is repaired. At least three weeks will be required to get new parts for the plane, it was estimated. The aviatrix was quoted as saying she did not want to continue her flight in any machine except the Avian, an English ship in which Lady Heath recently flew from England to Ireland.

Unfamiliarity with the field was blamed by Miss Earhart for the accident. In her ten years of flying, she said she had never before figured in a smash-up.

Miss Earhart and Putnam were on a pleasure flight. The young woman is on her vacation and is making the air trip for "fun," she said.

MIDDLE GRID STAR SUCGUMBS

Miles S. Fox, Steelton, Collapses in Dressing Room, Following Football Try-out.

Armstrong, Sept. 1.—Midshipman Miles Seaser Fox, Steelton, Pa., a star member of the United States Naval academy football squad, who gave promise of being one of the best halfbacks in the country this season, died of sunstroke early Friday at the Naval hospital here. He collapsed in the gymnasium after returning from football practice.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miles M. Fox, who live at Steelton, were notified by Rear-Admiral S. F. Robinson, superintendent of the academy, and arrived here several hours after their son's death. Was 19 Years Old.

Fox, who was 19 and a member of the third class at the academy, returned from a month's leave of absence at 10 a. m. Thursday and reported for preliminary football practice with other members of the Navy varsity squad at 2 p. m.

The men were in regulation football uniform, and, under the direction of the Navy coaches, spent the time in light practice, devoted to catching and running back kicks. Fox, who was slated for right halfback on the Navy varsity, worked with other backfield candidates.

Ran From Field

So effective was his performance that Commander Jonas Ingram, athletic director of the academy, and W. A. (Navy Bill) Ingram, head coach, and assistant coaches remarked that Fox was showing mid-season form.

At the conclusion of the practice the athletes ran from the field to the gymnasium to change their clothing. Mr. Ingram approached Fox and congratulated him for his showing on the field.

Fell While Undressing

Following the conversation with his instructor, Fox sat down on a bench in the dressing room of the gymnasium and began undressing preparatory to taking a shower bath. Suddenly his teammates saw him sway and fall to the floor.

He was taken to the navy hospital immediately and at 11 o'clock Thursday night physicians reported that he was improved and apparently was on the way to recovery. Shortly afterward he suffered a relapse and died at 1:30 a. m.

BANDITS SLAY TRAIN GUARDS

All Soldiers But One On Guarded Passenger Are Massacred.

Mexico City, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Special dispatches to Excelsior say that all but one of a group of soldiers guarding a train in the State of Morelos were massacred by bandits who held up and robbed a passenger train between the towns of Cuatla and Puente de Exla Thursday night.

The number of soldiers on the train was not known, but probably was not more than ten. No foreigners were reported on the train and so far as known no passengers were injured. Several members of the train crew were wounded. After the robbery the coaches were set afire.

Troops In Pursuit

Federal troops from the Cuernavaca garrison started in pursuit of the gang, which was said to number about 175 men.

The bandits placed obstructions on the track and fired into the car containing the guards. Excelsior says that a fight ensued until only one soldier remained alive. He crawled away wounded and managed to escape.

The bandits lined up the passengers along the tracks and robbed them, later robbing the express car and starting the engine on a wild trip down the rails.

PHILLY POLICE BRIBED, JUDGE

Orders Grand Jurors To Delve Deep or Special Commission Will be Provided.

Philadelphia, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Judge Edwin O. Lewis, in addressing the grand jury investigating activities of Philadelphia gangsters, hijackers and bootleggers, declared Friday that high police officials were on the bootleggers payroll. He said that if the director of Public Safety and the Civil Service Commission failed to get to the bottom of the situation he would appoint a special commission under the authority of the city charter to go into it.

Police are Involved

In a preliminary report the grand jury had told Judge Lewis that its inquiry had shown that a group of men, with the corrupt connivance of police officials, had for years violated the law on a wholesale scale and that as an organized part of their scheme, they had put on the streets notorious criminals, thugs and gunmen, who in the "conduct of their illegal purpose have not hesitated to indulge in bloodshed and wanton brutality."

"Get to the bottom of the rotten conditions, including the bribery of police by bootleggers and gangsters," Judge Lewis told the grand jury. "The court, the District Attorney and the Mayor are behind you in this work."

They were accompanied home by their daughters, Cecilia and Mary, who spent the past few months with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Freed. Miss Myrtle Cullison spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. David Metz and family, Virginia Mills.

Sidelights of New York

NEW YORK (AP)—The shame of an automobilist out of gas in a traffic jam is trivial beside the tribulation of a motorman whose Madison Avenue streetcar caught fire at the Forty-fourth street intersection. The fire was quickly quenched, but the car was dead when the confusion was over, and a trolley in the rear got rid of its passengers and started to push the crippled streetcar to the barns, blocks away.

A cavalcade of mounted police was formed to clear the way and the hapless motorman waggled start and stop signals to his colleague manipulating the rear car.

As the procession moved up the avenue, amid the crowd that always flocks to a mishap, some wags high in an office building showered down a few ribbons of ticker tape and fragments of paper, just to make it a real celebration.

Gotham's Finest

New York likes to think its bluecoats are a little kinder and a little handsomer and a little more romantic than their fellows elsewhere. And most of them have time, too, for a bit of blarney.

One young woman who became a bride and a New Yorker at about the same time tried, on her first venture downtown alone, to cross Sixth Avenue against the lights. The fatherly officer waved her back to the curb severely, but presently stopped traffic to let her reach the middle of the street.

"In a hurry?" he asked genially as she huddled beside an "L" support. She didn't answer.

"Spik English?" he tried again. That made her angry and she spat out a "Yes!"

"Ha, I thought so. And maybe a little Irish, too?"

No response. The minute the lights changed she darted away, but the officer tossed after her: "Don't hurry. The longer ye stay, the deeper ye sink into me heart."

Almost in tears, she told her husband about the incident when she got home, with a who-can-you-trust-in-a-city-where-even-the-police-try-to-flirt-with-you air. But he laughed her out of it, and a few days later she came home from a shopping trip with the good news that her Irish brass-buttons had been promoted to a busier corner on Fifth Avenue.

Lessons In Bridge

A young lady eager to improve her bridge game was elated, at an afternoon session of cards, to find herself the partner of a famous expert on the game. She boasted of her experience at a bridge luncheon a few days later, and when a controversy arose about the playing of a hand she volunteered to call Mr. Blank and get authoritative information as to the correct procedure.

The expert, reached on the telephone, went into some detail as to what the bid should be and how it should be made. When everything was clear the young woman returned to her comrades and repeated the lecture with more than a little self-satisfaction at her intimacy with one of the mentors of the game.

But presently the mail brought a bill for $25 for a "bridge consultation," and she stormed to an attorney friend and laid it before him.

"Must I pay this ridiculous charge?" she asked.

"Did you go to him for advice?" the lawyer countered, and she told the story.

Unwillingly convinced and a bit abashed, she went home and sent a check. The next month she got a statement from her lawyer:

"Bridge Consultation$25."

Figuring It Out

Sometimes strangers are so sure they'll get lost that they ask for the minutest directions like the man who halted on Fifth Avenue to ask a bluecoat how far it was to St. Patrick's Cathedral.

"Well," the officer told him, "this is Forty-first street and you'll find the Cathedral at Fiftieth."

"How far?" insisted the pedestrian, still unsure of himself.

The policeman suppressed a smile. "I'll name the streets," he volunteered, "and you count 'em."

The inquirer prepared for the tally.

"Forty-second," began his counsellor, "Forty-third, Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth and Fiftieth."

"Nine blocks?" exclaimed the pedestrian. "Straight north? Thank you." And away he went.

LITERARY NOTE

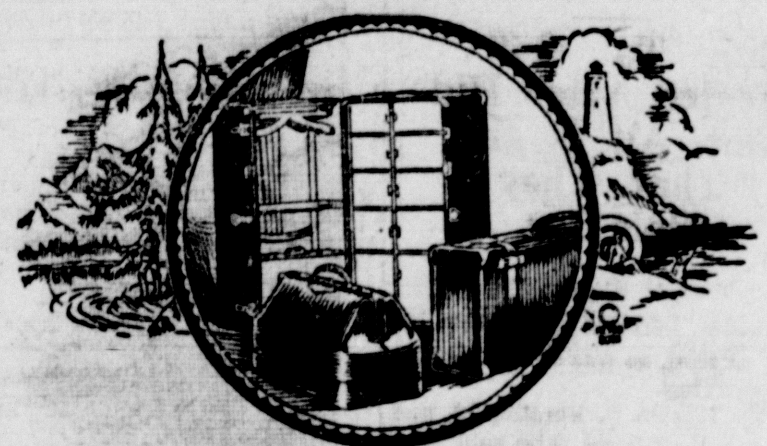

Some New Yorkers who disdain to let a literary board of directors choose their books for them have a manner just as methodical of keeping abreast of contemporary writing. A book dealer off Park Avenue has standing orders from a number of patrons for all the volumes reviewed favorably in the literary section of their favorite newspaper.

GETTYSBURG, PA., SATURDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 1st, 1928.

PRICE THREE CENTS

Admit To Officer Shealer, After Hiding All Night, That They Stole Car.

Gettysburg's night officer, Paul B. Shealer, believes in "getting his man" or men, as was the case early this morning.

After Harold C. Yonkin, 22, and James R. Dolan, 23, who said they were soldiers stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, near Baltimore, abandoned an alleged stolen automobile in an alley in the rear of the furniture factory offices, they hid in the weeds and tall grass in the vicinity of the Burgoon and Yungling canning factory.

Hide Until Dawn
The pair left the car and took to their heels about 1:30 o'clock this morning, and remained in hiding until daylight, when they emerged from their grassy resting place, stiff and covered with dew. That was at 5:30 o'clock, but Officer Shealer had appointed himself as a committee to receive them, and he promptly took them into custody.

The pair said they had been given a leave of absence from the Maryland camp, and had stolen the automobile, in which they were riding, in front of the Gettysburg theater in Baltimore, the officer said.

Officer Gives Chase
The night officer's attention was attracted to the car as it sped around center square, with only one headlight burning. He blew his whistle, but the car continued east on York street. Officer Shealer and Edgar Shealer gave chase in another machine, finally coming upon the abandoned Maryland car behind the furniture factory office. The pair will be turned over to the Maryland authorities today.

Make Plans for State Convention

A meeting for members of the Adams county Sunday School association, including ministers, superintendents, teachers and others, will be held at St. James' Lutheran church Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock when plans for the forthcoming state Sunday School association convention to be held at Philadelphia, October 10, 11 and 12, will be discussed.

H. C. Heckerman, first vice president of the state organization, and R. Stanley Kendig, a member of the field staff of the state association, will address the meeting. Adams county has been allotted fifty delegates for the state convention.

LOCAL MAN WEDS THIS AFTERNOON

Miss Margaret I. Welty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Welty, Greencastle, and Clyde E. Williams, son of Mrs. A. D. Weikert, Gettysburg, were married this afternoon at 2 o'clock, by the Rev. Mr. Francis, at Waynesboro.

The bride wore a dress of white baronette satin trimmed with chantilly lace and a white hat to match.

Immediately after the ceremony the newlyweds left on a motor trip to Cumberland and points of interest in the south.

The bride is well known in Gettysburg, having a wide circle of friends in this vicinity and in Waynesboro.

After the honeymoon, the young couple will be at home to their friends, 35 Hanover street, after September 8. The groom is employed at the Gettysburg furniture factory.

One Sock From the Storm God's Fist Did This Damage, Recently, in Chicago

Struck by lightning during terrific storm, there wasn't an awful lot left of this bridge in the plant of the Youngstown Steel & Tube company, Chicago. Much of the structure fell into the Calumet river, shown in the foreground. No one was on the span when bolt landed. So consequently there was no loss of life.

Boy Scouts and Members of Two Service Clubs Participate In Work.

Nine concrete markers designating the route of the Lincoln Highway through Gettysburg were erected at 1 o'clock this afternoon by Boy Scouts, assisted by members of the Rotary and Lions' clubs. The placing of the local standards was part of an arrangement by which the road was permanently marked and dedicated to the memory of President Lincoln from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The holes were dug in advance by employees of the Peters cement products company, and afterward workmen of the concern set the standards in concrete.

Concrete Standards

The service club members, who assisted the scouts in placing the posts, were William H. Tipton, John Spangler, S. G. Spangler, Henry M. Scharf, John W. Brehm, D. J. Poincy, I. L. Taylor, George L. Taylor and Howard Mittinger.

Two markers were erected in center square, and others were placed near the Oyler and Spangler fertilizer works, at 229 York street, at the Meade school, at 155 York street, at the Lincoln school and one at Reynolds avenue.

Similar markers have been set up along the highway in Adams county. Three Scouts assisted at each marker location.

East Berlin Has Large Enrollment

The East Berlin schools opened Monday with the largest enrollment—150 pupils—in their history. The primary room taught by Miss Beulah Wentz has an enrollment of 32 beginners and first and second grade pupils. The intermediate room taught by Miss Miriam Cashman enrolled 40 third, fourth and fifth grade pupils. The grammar room taught by Luther Yohe has an enrollment of 35 sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils. The high school taught by the Rev. J. Harold Little and Miss Kathryn Wilson has an enrollment of 52 pupils with 22 pupils in the freshman class. All the seniors are back, 18 in number, and 12 juniors. Many improvements to the school in the way of new seats for the grade schools and new drinking fountains have been made during the vacation season.

STOCK REPORT

New York, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Heavy week-end profit taking interrupted the resumption of the strong upward price movement on the New York stock exchange today, but not until after more than a score of issues had been lifted to new high ground. Early gains ranged from 1 to 6 points with trading in enormous volume. Motor stocks were heavily bought. The closing was firm.

PUBLIC AUCTION: all goods remaining on our stands at 9 o'clock this evening will be sold at Public Auction by Mr. Adams, auctioneer of Waynesboro. Novelties, blankets, toys, fancy articles, etc. will be offered. Father Sullivan, Blue Ridge Summit.

FREE PEEPS, BUT—

Newport, R. I., Sept. 1.—(AP)—The story of how four members of the summer colony here found a "peeping Tom" watching their sunbaths on Second Beach and administered a beating to him instead of having him arrested was learned today.

Mrs. Robert D. Harrington, daughter of Mrs. Moses Taylor, of Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, and Miss Edith Woodward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Woodward, all prominent in the social life of New York and Newport, accompanied by a fourth member of the summer colony whose name could not be learned, have been in the habit of taking sun baths on Second Beach.

The four had suspected, however, that their visits to the beach had not been unobserved, and this suspicion was confirmed when they went to the beach Thursday.

A man appeared, driving a motor car bearing a Pennsylvania license plate. As he came over the dunes he was surrounded by the four young women, who proceeded to tell him what they thought of him. Suddenly one of the four swung her fist and struck him in the face. This example was immediately followed by the other three, and the man was knocked to the ground.

He was well beaten, the fight was torn from his back, and as a crowning indignity he was carried to the ocean and thrown into the surf with what clothes remained on him. There they left him and departed.

CHILDREN GIVE PIANO RECITAL

A children's piano recital was given at 7:30 o'clock, Friday evening, at the home of Miss Esther Bigham, Biglerville, who has conducted a class in piano instruction during the summer. Miss Bigham will be graduated from the Oberlin conservatory of music, Oberlin, Ohio, next spring.

The following program was given: "The Little French Doll," Miss Dorothy Walton; "The Lullaby," by Miss Betty Bucher; "Giant Steps and Elfland Horns," Edmund Rice; "Playful Kittens," Miss Eleanor Dill; "The Dance of the Marionettes," Miss Jane Rice; "The Fairy," Miss Evelyn Thomas; "The Morning Song," Miss Virginia Bucher; "The Doll's Music Box," Miss Nancy Dill, and "The Sleeping Garden," Miss Anna Miller.

Southern Farmers To Visit Orchards

Fifty farmers from the vicinity of Raleigh, North Carolina, will visit the Gettysburg battlefield and Adams county's fruit orchards next Wednesday. The visitors will travel by bus, and will spend Wednesday night in camp at Arendtsville union park. The party will be in charge of John C. Anderson, farm agent, of Raleigh.

L. D. Shealer and family have moved from Chambersburg street to their new home at 449 West Middle street extended.

We are receiving apples at our Biglerville plant. The C. H. Musselman Company, Biglerville.

EXPECT THROG HERE ON MONDAY

Larger Factories to Observe Holiday: Banks to Enjoy Day of Rest.

While many Gettysburgians are planning outings for Monday, the town is preparing to entertain the usual Labor Day throng of tourists. A noticeable increase in the volume of motor traffic through Gettysburg was apparent today, and toward late afternoon hotels and lodging houses began to fill up rapidly.

The three Gettysburg furniture factories, the Eagle silk mill, the Sure Foot Heel and Rubber company and other local industries have declared a holiday for their employees, Monday. All banks, offices at the court house and most of the local stores will observe Labor Day as a holiday.

There will be no window service or rural mail delivery from the Gettysburg postoffice. One early morning delivery will be made by the city carriers.

HOOVER'S FIRST EASTERN TALK IS SET FOR NEWARK

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover will make his first eastern speech at Newark, N. J., about the middle of September.

Labor is expected to be the topic of the address, his third prepared one of the campaign, and negotiations are in progress for a nation-wide radio hookup.

While Hoover may make some other speeches in September he probably will defer his visit to New York city and Boston until October. His appearances in the south and in the border states still are under consideration.

Navy Dirigible Circles Sunbury

Sunbury, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The navy dirigible Los Angeles arrived here at 12:20 p. m. and after circling the city twice headed southeast toward Reading. Two navy planes here for the dedication of the Wesley L. Smith airport ascended and escorted the dirigible over the city.

The visit of the dirigible was the first event on the program of dedication ceremonies.

Potatoes, Salad, Cucumbers Do Not Mix; 12 Poisoned

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 1.—(AP)—More than a dozen employees of the Security Insurance company who ate lunch in the company's cafeteria yesterday are being treated for poisoning today. In each case the patient is said to have eaten potato salad which contained cucumbers and to have topped off the meal with ice cream.

COMMUNION SUNDAY

Services will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Prince of Peace Episcopal church, Baltimore street. Communion will be given. The Rev. T. N. Null is pastor.

GIRL BRIDE OF WEEK AND AGED HUSBAND BREAK

65-Year-Old Detroit Man and 19-Year-Old Girl, Wedded In County, Separated.

Married by the Rev. Father W. W. Whalen, rector of St. Ignatius Catholic church, Buchanan Valley, August 22, described by the bridegroom as "the most romantic spot in the world," Victor Mitchell, head of the department of journalism at the University of Detroit, and his wife, formerly Miss Marcella Hofweber, of Detroit, have been separated after a week of married life.

Mr. Mitchell, former managing editor of the London, Ontario, Advertiser, and later associate editor of the Dearborn Independent, and Miss Hofweber eloped from Detroit August 20 in spite of the efforts of the girl's parents to stop them.

Valley Girls Skeptical
They came direct to Buchanan Valley and were married by the Rev. Father Whalen. "Mr. Mitchell had visited me earlier in the summer and proposed to some of our Buchanan Valley girls, but none of them would have him," the Rev. Father Whalen said recently.

Today Mr. Mitchell was in a Detroit police station where he is being held for federal authorities in connection with his entry into the United States from Canada. His wife is at the home of her parents. When the couple returned from their honeymoon, Mr. Hofweber appeared, declaring Mr. Mitchell, who was married before, is 65, and his daughter, 19.

Liked Buchanan Valley
Mr. Mitchell, in telling of his romance, said that he had known Father Whalen for a number of years, and when he visited him, had told him that if he ever married again he would go to Buchanan Valley. "It is an ideal spot for a honeymoon," he said.

Police say Mr. Mitchell was taken into custody for his alleged failure to pay his head tax when he entered the United States in 1925. He said he had served with the Scotch Highlanders in the World War.

Romance Tender Flower

When asked what he intended to do toward resuming the romance so rudely interrupted, Mr. Mitchell shrugged his shoulders and said regretfully: "As I have said, romance is a tender flower, and may easily be crushed at any time. What can I do?"

Tom Mix Freed on Charge of Assault

Los Angeles, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Tom Mix, film actor, was found not guilty Friday on a charge of assault and battery in connection with a fight between him and Will Morrissey, a stage comedian. The judge ruled Mix had been justified in using force against Morrissey, and that although he may have struck the actor's wife, Midgie Morrissey, he apparently had done so accidentally.

The decision closed the docket of the last of the court affairs resulting from the fight between Mix and Morrissey at a housewarming party given by a friend.

The Morrisseys were arrested on a charge of drunkenness when they went to a police station after the fight, but lack of evidence freed them.

Highway Walker Is Killed Today At Chambersburg

Chambersburg, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Jacob S. Stoner, a retired farmer, was fatally injured today by an automobile driven by Harry Berse, of Pittsburgh. Stoner was walking to a mail box along the Lincoln Highway when he was struck. He was taken to the Chambersburg hospital where he died.

PROBE AIMEE'S DEALS

Three hours after curb market opened this morning, one farmer said there was still enough produce left to stage another good-sized market. His observation was altogether true, for late-comers were able to purchase what the "early birds" thought they alone were being favored with.

Market was well patronized in the early morning hours, but the extensive buying made little impression in the abundant offerings of fruits, berries and vegetables.

Peaches were especially plentiful, selling from $1 to $1.75 a bushel, with a top price of $2 a bushel for choice Hales and Elbertas. Summer Rambo apples sold as high as $2 a bushel, with other varieties bringing from $1.25 a bushel upwards.

Prices of other commodities follow: Corn, 20 cents a dozen; plums $2 a bushel; potatoes, 75 cents and $1 a bushel; huckleberries, 25 cents a quart; eggs, 40 cents a dozen; string beans, 10 cents a quarter-peck; lima beans, 30 and 35 cents a quart; white grapes, 10 cents a quart; dressed chickens, 85 cents to $2 each; spring chickens, live weight, 32 and 35 cents a pound; tomatoes, 75 cents a basket; blackberries, 20 cents a box; pears, $1.50 to $2 a bushel; elderberries, 5 cents a quart.

Red beets, squash, carrots, rhubarb, honey and home made pastries were plentiful, with no change in prices.

CHARLES READY FOR AIR DERBY

Plane to be Christened at Gettysburg Airport Tomorrow Afternoon at 1 O'clock.

Equipped with new wings, its motor tuned to a fine edge and its pilot, Paul Charles, anxious to get started, the Gettysburg entry in the national transcontinental air derby is in fine shape for its christening Sunday afternoon at one o'clock at the Gettysburg Airport.

Next Wednesday morning at dawn, more than 80 fliers, the cream of cross-continent pilots, dare-devils or the flying game, will be put under-way on the long grind to the Pacific coast, their first destined stop being Middletown, just outside of Harrisburg.

Sunday afternoon, Gettysburgians and Adams countians will send their own pilot on his way to New York for the start of the race. They will be given an opportunity to wish the 21-year-old pilot "lot of luck" while kindled in their breasts will be the wish and hope that the "kid" will come through with flying colors, on top of the heap, thus adding to the fame and glory of Gettysburg.

Charles will leave the Gettysburg airport Sunday afternoon, immediately after the christening at 1 o'clock.

Pitted Against Veterans

Pitted against this youthful aviator will be men who have devoted many years toward the progress of flying. Many of the entrants are men who have crossed the continent several times, and are familiar with the route to be traversed.

Pilot Paul Charles has never crossed the continent. He will depend upon his maps, his instruments, and his flying judgment to carry him through. He has done considerable flying throughout the east, having recently flown to New York from Gettysburg in record breaking time. He has made numerous other trips, over mountains and other strange country, and has always come through without mishap, showing unusually good flying judgment.

In the transcontinental contest he will be put to his most severe test and Gettysburg is looking to him for new laurels.

He will be given a rousing send-off tomorrow afternoon.

Church Social Is Largely Attended

More than 150 persons, members and friends of the Jacob's Reformed church, near Fountain Dale, attended a social held at the church recently. Games on the lawn followed a program, consisting of devotions, songs, readings and a short address, by the young people of the congregation.

At the conclusion of the play hour, refreshments were served on the church lawn, where a long table had been placed.

Virginians Here To Attend Picnic

Families of Virginians and West Virginians who have moved to Adams county are planning a basket picnic to be held at Spangler's Spring, Saturday, September 8. Those in charge of the affair are urging residents of Adams county to join with the "invaders" in order that all may become better acquainted.

CHANGE OF RESIDENCE

The Rev. Robert Fortenbaugh has moved from 319 North Stratton street to 150 Broadway.

SENTENCED TO SUPPORT CHILD

John Scott Enters Plea of Nolle Contendere to Minor Statutory Offense.

John R. Scott, of New York, was allowed to enter a plea of nolle contendere to a minor statutory offense in court here Friday afternoon, after a charge of seduction was nolle prossed by District Attorney John P. Butt at the written request of the prosecutor, Betty Paxton, of Gettysburg.

Under a plea of nolle contendere, the defendant pleads guilty, reserving the right to explain his side of the case. Judge D. P. McPherson sentenced Scott, a former student at Gettysburg college, who has since married a New York girl, who was by his side throughout the court proceedings, to pay a fine of $1, expenses of $45 to Miss Paxton and $3.50 a week, from last October, for seven years for the support of the girl's child, born out of wedlock.

Last Jury Case
Scott was represented by J. Donald Swope, attorney-at-law. His case concluded the trial list for the August term, and after the jurors in his case had been selected, Judge McPherson dismissed other venturers from further attendance at this term of court.

Court was adjourned Friday afternoon to next Friday morning when assertion and non-support cases will be heard. Next Saturday, a session of sentence court will be held, and District Attorney Butt expects to have between 20 and 25 defendants in court on pleas of guilty.

Man Hanged for Killing Daughter

Walla Walla, Wash., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Wallace C. Gaines was hanged at dawn Friday in the State Penitentiary here for the murder of his 22-year-old daughter in Seattle two years ago.

Gaines went to his death protesting his innocence and unforgiving toward those who had prosecuted him. Frank Novak, prison evangelist, who was closeted with Gaines for nine hours before the hanging, said he would make a statement as soon as he had recovered from the ordeal.

The murder of Miss Gaines, a graduate of Smith college and daughter of Gaines by his first wife, now Mrs. L. E. Mavard, of Lynnfield, Mass., occurred here on the night of June 16, 1926. The girl disappeared from her home about 8 o'clock that night and the next day her mutilated body was found on the shore of Green Lake.

Tunney Will Visit Oxford University

London, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Following his visit Friday to a rather well known Englishman—none other than Edward, Prince of Wales—the next item on Gene Tunney's program is a visit to the University of Oxford.

He plans to make the trip today. Friends will escort him through the colleges and show him the historic sights, among them the Bodleian library.

Although Gene was reticent, it was learned from other sources that his talk at St. James Palace with the Prince ranged from boxing to Tunney's projected walking tour of Europe with Thornton Wilder.

SWOPE CLAIMS COURT BIASED IN HIS CHARGE

Defense Counsel In Murder Trial Files 8 Reasons in Motion for New Trial.

Eight reasons in support of a motion for a new trial for Mrs. Helen D. Eiker, convicted here, Thursday, of murder in the second degree for the slaying of her husband, Percy, were filed in the court of oyer and terminer shortly before noon today by J. Donald Swope, the 20-year-old woman's counsel.

Mr. Swope also reserves the right to file additional reasons in support of his motion for a new trial and the stay of sentence when the court's charge to the jury and the testimony in the case has been reduced from the stenographic notes.

Mr. Swope's action prevents sentence from being pronounced on Mrs. Eiker until Judge D. P. McPherson acts upon the reasons in support of a new trial. Should the court refuse a new trial, it is considered likely that an appeal to a superior court will be taken.

Says Court Was Unfair
Mr. Swope's reasons in support of his motion for a new trial follow:

"The charge of the court to the jury was unfair to the defense and biased in favor of the prosecution."

"The charge of the court on the facts consisted of an argument in favor of the theory advanced by the commonwealth."

"The charge of the court contained arguments in support of the theory of the commonwealth which were not mentioned or argued by the prosecuting attorney."

"The charge of the court ridiculed the testimony of the defense witnesses and ridiculed the theory and arguments of the defense."

"The court erred in stating to the jury that 'the only reasonable explanation is that the hole in the cover was made while it was over Percy and while he was asleep.'"

Charges Several Errors
"The court erred in charging in stating to the jury that 'now, these questions were simple questions.'"

"The court erred in overruling defense's offer to prove by Dr. McCutcheon that advanced tuberculosis, such as the defendant was suffering from at the time of the alleged shooting, would affect her nervous system and mentality and cause her to adopt as reasonable, a course of procedure which would not suggest itself to a normally well person."

"The court erred in overruling defense's objection to the offer of the commonwealth to prove the good reputation of the deceased for chastity, which reputation for chastity was in no way at issue in the case."

PLAYS WEDDING MARCH ABROAD; MARRIED IN U. S.

Celony, Switzerland, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The radio telephone is to be called into unusual service when it will be used to transmit the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played in Switzerland, across the Atlantic, for a marriage at Manchester, Mass.

When Miss Annie Bulen Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bennett, is wed in America to William Chase Paulson, of the Coldstream Guards, Ernest Schelling will play the Mendelssohn composition on his piano in the Villa Garango. The music will pass over a telephone wire to London and thence by radio to Manchester. There it is to be amplified so that all the guests can hear it as the wedding procession starts.

Schelling, a pupil of Paderewski, is an American citizen of Swiss origin.

Harry Thaw's Life Again Threatened

Pittsburgh, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Harry Thaw's life has been threatened again, this time in a letter to his aged mother, Mrs. William Thaw, demanding $5000 for her son's safety, it was learned today. The news of this latest attempt to obtain money from the family of Stanford White's slayer was revealed when it was learned that William Beatty, a middle-aged man, taken into custody under somewhat mysterious circumstances, is being held by detectives in connection with the alleged extortion plot.

24 DROWN IN MONTH

Pittsburgh, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Twenty-four persons drowned in Allegheny county during August, the largest number of drownings ever recorded here in a single month, the coroner reported today.

SPECIAL SMUT TRAIN WILL BE RUN IN COUNTY

Reading Road to Assist State Farmers in Effort to Save Large Crop of Wheat.

To help reduce the enormous losses from stinking smut, which last year took a toll of 1,400,000 bushels of wheat from Pennsylvania farmers, the Reading Railroad, assisted by the Pennsylvania State college, will run a smut control train through 19 Pennsylvania counties and two New Jersey counties this month. For the convenience of Adams county farmers a stop will be made at Gettysburg, September 10.

Besides destroying an average of 14 bushels an acre last year, smut caused further loss in dockage. Buyers paid from 3 to 30 cents a bushel less for wheat that smelled smutty or that had more than two smutted kernels in 300 grains than for sound wheat. These discounts cost Pennsylvania farmers approximately $280,000 last year. In addition, thousands of bushels of wheat could not be sold at any price.

Train Well Equipped

The train is equipped with the latest and most modern machinery for the cleaning and treating of seed wheat. The only cost is about four cents a bushel for the copper carbonate dust used. This is paid to a local dealer, no charge being made by the railroad or the college for any services rendered. While the capacity of the train is 1000 bushels a day, the amount treated will be only a part of the total seeded in the state this fall. It is hoped by those in charge of the train, however, that local millers, grain dealers, and farmers will be aroused to the need of such smut control methods so that local provisions will take care of the situation in the future.

Application blanks and tickets have been mailed to a large number of farmers in the county and already about 400 bushels of the amount that can be treated at the Gettysburg stop has been signed up. Those farmers who did not get blanks and who wish to have their seed cleaned and treated on the train can secure the blanks and tickets by applying to R. E. Underwood, at the county agricultural extension association office in the court house.

All farmers are invited to take advantage of this opportunity to protect their wheat from the ravages of stinking smut. The disease can be controlled by the copper carbonate dust treatment and it is the hope of those in charge of the train that his effort will result in a large saving of the 1929 crop.

AMELIA CRACKS; IS NOT INJURED

First Woman Flier to Cross Atlantic Wrecks Plane in Landing at Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Miss Amelia Earhart, first woman to cross the Atlantic by air, escaped injury late Friday when her biplane, the Avian, crashed at Rodgers Field, George P. Putnam, New York publisher who flew with Miss Earhart from Rye, New York, also was unhurt.

In coming down, Miss Earhart's ship struck a rut, breaking the landing gear. The Avian turned over on its side, smashing the propeller and lower left wing. Miss Earhart was at the controls.

It was said at the flying field that Miss Earhart will remain in or near Pittsburgh until her ship is repaired. At least three weeks will be required to get new parts for the plane, it was estimated.

The aviatrix was quoted as saying she did not want to continue her flight in any machine except the Avian, an English ship in which Lady Heath recently flew from England to Ireland.

Unfamiliarity with the field was blamed by Miss Earhart for the accident. In her ten years of flying, she said she had never before figured in a smash-up.

Miss Earhart and Putnam were on a pleasure flight. The young woman is on her vacation and is making the air trip for "fun," she said.

The Avian stopped in midafternoon at Bellefonte, Pa., to take on gasoline.

MIDDLE GRID STAR SUCUMB

Miles S. Fox, Steelton, Collapses in Dressing Room, Following Football Try-out.

Annapolis, Sept. 1.—Midshipman Miles Seaser Fox, Steelton, Pa., a star member of the United States Naval academy football squad, who gave promise of being one of the best halfbacks in the country this season, died of sunstroke early Friday at the Naval hospital here. He collapsed in the gymnasium after returning from football practice.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miles M. Fox, who live at Steelton, were notified by Rear-Admiral S. F. Robinson, superintendent of the academy, and arrived here several hours after their son's death. Was 19 Years Old.

Fox, who was 19 and a member of the third class at the academy, returned from a month's leave of absence at 10 a. m. Thursday and reported for preliminary football practice with other members of the Navy varsity squad at 2 p. m.

The men were in regulation football uniform, and, under the direction of the Navy coaches, spent the time in light practice, devoted to catching and running back kicks. Fox, who was slated for right halfback on the Navy varsity, worked with other backfield candidates.

Ran From Field. So effective was his performance that Commander Jonas Ingram, athletic director of the academy, and W. A. (Navy Bill) Ingram, head coach, and assistant coaches remarked that Fox was showing mid-season form.

At the conclusion of the practice the athletes ran from the field to the gymnasium to change their clothing. Mr. Ingram approached Fox and congratulated him for his showing on the field.

Fell While Undressing. Following the conversation with his instructor, Fox sat down on a bench in the dressing room of the gymnasium and began undressing preparatory to taking a shower bath. Suddenly his teammates saw him sway and fall to the floor.

He was taken to the navy hospital immediately and at 11 o'clock Thursday night physicians reported that he was improved and apparently was on the way to recovery. Shortly afterward he suffered a relapse and died at 1:30 a. m.

BANDITS SLAY TRAIN GUARDS

All Soldiers But One On Guarded Passenger Are Massacred.

Mexico, City, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Special dispatches to Excelsior say that all but one of a group of soldiers guarding a train in the State of Morelos were massacred by bandits who held up and robbed a passenger train between the towns of Cuautla and Puente de Exla Thursday night.

The number of soldiers on the train was not known, but probably was not more than ten. No foreigners were reported on the train and so far as known no passengers were injured. Several members of the train crew were wounded. After the robbery the coaches were set afire.

Troops in Pursuit. Federal troops from the Cuernavaca garrison started in pursuit of the gang, which was said to number about 175 men.

The bandits placed obstructions on the track and fired into the car containing the guards. Excelsior says that a fight ensued until only one soldier remained alive. He crawled away wounded and managed to escape.

The bandits lined up the passengers along the tracks and robbed them, later robbing the express car and starting the engine on a wild trip down the rails.

PHILLY POLICE BRIBED, JUDGE

Orders Grand Jurors To Delve Deep or Special Commission Will be Provided.

Philadelphia, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Judge Edwin O. Lewis, in addressing the grand jury investigating activities of Philadelphia gangsters, hijackers and bootleggers, declared Friday that high police officials were on the bootleggers' payroll. He said that if the director of Public Safety and the Civil Service Commission failed to get to the bottom of the situation he would appoint a special commission under the authority of the city charter to go into it.

Police are involved. In a preliminary report the grand jury had told Judge Lewis that its inquiry had shown that a group of men, with the corrupt connivance of police officials, had for years violated the law on a wholesale scale and that as an organized part of their scheme, they had put on the streets notorious criminals, thugs and gunmen, who in the "conduct of their illegal purpose have not hesitated to indulge in bloodshed and wanton brutality."

"Get to the bottom of the rotten conditions, including the bribery of police, by bootleggers and gangsters," Judge Lewis told the grand jury. "The court, the District Attorney and the Mayor are behind you in this work."

CASHTOWN

Cashtown.—Mrs. William Leister and Miss Mary E. Benner, Gettysburg, spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hartman.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Watkins, Mrs. Martha Melhorn and Mrs. Ira Young, Philadelphia, and Miss Rose Young, Gettysburg, visited Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Mickle, Sunday.

Mrs. Calvin Hartman and son, Richard, Pittsburgh, are spending the week with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Myers, Philadelphia, spent the past few days with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Freed. They were accompanied home by their daughters, Cecilia and Mary, who spent the past few months with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Metz and family, Virginia Mills.

Sidelights of New York

NEW YORK (AP)—The shame of an automobilist out of gas in a traffic jam is trivial beside the tribulation of a motorman whose Madison Avenue streetcar caught fire at the Forty-fourth street intersection. The fire was quickly quenched, but the car was dead when the confusion was over, and a trolley in the rear got rid of its passengers and started to push the crippled streetcar to the barns, blocks away.

A cavalcade of mounted police was formed to clear the way and the hapless motorman waggled start and stop signals to his colleague manipulating the rear car.

As the procession moved up the avenue, amid the crowd that always flocks to a mishap, some wags high in an office building showered down a few ribbons of ticker tape and fragments of paper, just to make it a real celebration.

Gotham's Finest. New York likes to think its blue-coats are a little kinder and a little handsomer and a little more romantic than their fellows elsewhere. And most of them have time, too, for a bit of blarney.

One young woman who became a bride and a New Yorker at about the same time tried, on her first venture downtown alone, to cross Sixth Avenue against the lights. The fatherly officer waved her back to the curb severely, but presently stopped traffic to let her reach the middle of the street.

"In a hurry?" he asked genially as she huddled beside an "L" support. She didn't answer.

"Spik English?" he tried again. That made her angry and she spat out a "Yes!"

"Ha, I thought so. And maybe a little Irish, too?"

No response. The minute the lights changed she darted away, but the officer tossed after her: "Don't hurry. The longer ye stay, the deeper ye sink into me heart."

Almost in tears, she told her husband about the incident when she got home, with a who-can-you-trust-in-a-city-where-even-the-police-try-to-flirt-with-you air. But he laughed her out of it, and a few days later she came home from a shopping trip with the good news that her Irish brass-buttons had been promoted to a busier corner on Fifth Avenue.

Lessons In Bridge

A young lady eager to improve her bridge game was elated, at an afternoon session of cards, to find herself the partner of a famous expert on the game. She boasted of her experience at a bridge luncheon a few days later, and when a controversy arose about the playing of a hand she volunteered to call Mr. Blank and get authoritative information as to the correct procedure.

The expert, reached on the telephone, went into some detail as to what the bid should be and how it should be made. When everything was clear the young woman returned to her comrades and repeated the lecture with more than a little self-satisfaction at her intimacy with one of the mentors of the game.

But presently the mail brought a bill for $25 for a "bridge consultation," and she stormed to an attorney friend and laid it before him.

"Must I pay this ridiculous charge?" she asked.

"Did you go to him for advice?" the lawyer countered, and she told the story.

Unwillingly convinced and a bit abashed, she went home and sent a check. The next month she got a statement from her lawyer: "Bridge Consultation $25."

Figuring It Out

Sometimes strangers are so sure they'll get lost that they ask for the minutest directions like the man who halted on Fifth Avenue to ask a bluecoat how far it was to St. Patrick's Cathedral.

"Well," the officer told him, "this is Forty-first street and you'll find the Cathedral at Fiftyeth."

"How far?" insisted the pedestrian, still unsure of himself.

The policeman suppressed a smile. "I'll name the streets," he volunteered, "and you count 'em." The inquirer prepared for the tally.

"Forty-second," began his counsellor, "Forty-third, Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth, Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth, Forty-ninth and Fiftyeth."

"Nine blocks?" exclaimed the pedestrian. "Straight north? Thank you." And away he went.

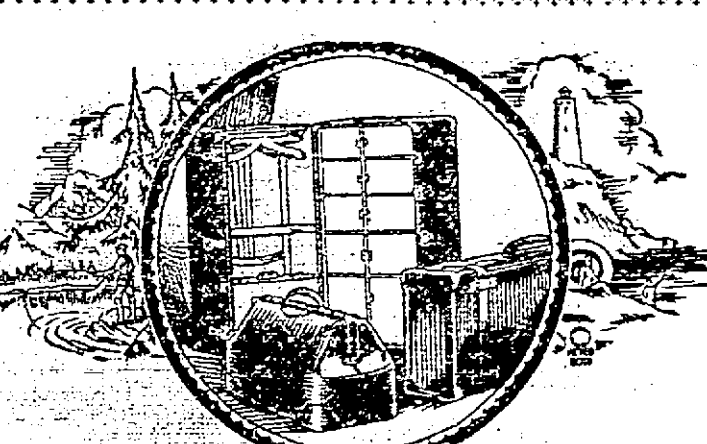

LITERARY NOTE

Some New Yorkers who disdain to let a literary board of directors choose their books for them have a manner just as methodical of keeping abreast of contemporary writing. A book dealer off Park Avenue has standing orders from a number of patrons for all the volumes reviewed favorably in the literary section of their favorite newspaper.

TEN YEARS AGO
Returns Home: Lieutenant
James T. Long, lately of Company
M, One Hundred and Twelfth Infantry, arrived home last night
from France on instruction duty.
He is a son of Harry W. Long, of Gettysburg. He was in the thick of the fights from Chateau Thierry
to the Vesle river and says that the regiment displayed magnificent courage. He will go to Camp
Dix as an instructor.
Lieutenant Long was gassed in the middle of July near the Marne.
Has Operation: Miss Carrie Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Huber Miller, of Steinwehr avenue, underwent a successful operation
for appendicitis at her home Tuesday afternoon. The operation was performed by Dr. Hartman and two doctors from Camp Colt.
Becomes Inspector: James W.
Moore, for a number of years postmaster at Fairfield, has been appointed inspector by the State Highway Department and ordered to report at Allentown.

To California: Mrs. J. W. Richard and Miss Esther Coffinberry, of Springs avenue, started on Monday afternoon for California. They expect to spend the fall and winter months in San Francisco. On their way they will stop for several weeks in Kansas.

Gasless Sunday Observed Here:
Sunday before Labor Day, usually one of the largest tourist days of the entire year, witnessed a decided slump as the result of the Fuel Administration's request against pleasure traveling. Instead of thousands of automobiles on the avenues, there were only a few hundred, and most of their occupants were viewed with ill concealed displeasure by people who had fallen in line with the government's effort to conserve the supply of gasoline.

Big Enrollment at Schools Open:
With the largest enrollment in their history, the public schools of Gettysburg opened this morning.

At the High School the girls and boys found a decided change since the close of school last June. All of the equipment of the Household
Arts and Domestic Science departments has been removed and stored
in order to make room for the enlarged chemistry, physics and biology department taught by Mr.
Lefevre. The State Board of Education required that a full laboratory equipment for these studies be put in, and the local board had nothing to do but to move the equipment of the branches taught
by Miss Fox and Miss Myers.

The board is now trying to rent
a house where Domestic Science and allied subjects can be taught satisfactorily.
This is the first year for Spanish
in the High School. Miss Nellie Blocher will have charge of this work.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE SPLIT TREE
WE went with our car and little typewriter, with our books and thoughts, into the mountains for a change of air and scene.
One day we stole away from the little town and climbed into high ground by way of a winding road. Then we stopped at a lovely place that was silent and beautiful with the gray blue of the distant mountains looking at us across beautiful Lake Champlain.
It was a spot of peace. Flowers of gold and blue and white nodded their heads in a sincere silence of welcome. We watched the grazing cows and saw fields of yellow grain waving like a sheet of silk far away.
But the most striking sight of all was a great tree beside the road where we had so casually stopped. In other days a storm had split that tree and a part of its great bulk had dropped, wounded to the ground. In the falling, however, this broken part had formed a great, strong support for the rest of the tree which stood because of its peculiar fall.
The years had healed the break where the tree's heart had been broken and this support upheld that massive growth. And the branches spread far and gave shelter to the beasts of the field and beauty to the road and all who beheld its presence.
Just a split tree. But, as I studied its life and growth against this misfortune which had come long years ago, I thought of the lives that have been broken in the midst of the years and of the fallen hopes and dreams—but which also form a support to the broken heart within the greater part which may stand the test of the years.
How many of us are just great split trees. Strong into our maturity—only to have something wound us to the heart.
But, perhaps that tree is stronger for that broken part which gives greater support, and perhaps we, too, are made stronger by the cruel thrust of fate.

THE MIND
He thought ten thousand curious thoughts
And only uttered a few,
What flashed behind the wall of his mind
Nobody ever knew.

And whether you'd injured him
carelessly
With a bitter word or cold
You never could tell, for he masked it well
And he never told.

He kept the fire in his eyes aglow,
If ever he shaped
A thought unkind in his ordered
mind,
It never escaped.

BLAME IN LAW TANGLES
MADISON, Wis.—E. E. Brossard, revisor of state statutes, blames much of the difficulty in interpreting laws upon the scarcely noticed but popular comma.

The comma's weakness in punctuation is its strength in legal confusion.
The revisers of statutes are authorized to clarify the construction of sentences in the law, but must not disturb the meaning. They find the comma the most misused mark
and the one that occupies their attention the most.

Now, you remember in the last story that a great giant had suddenly stopped the little bunny boy and the handsome prince on their way to the latter's castle. The giant seemed to be a very unpleasant kind of a person, and when he lifted on high his great club, the little rabbit had thought it time to use the magic ring which the Fairy Queen had given him some umpty
seven stories ago. And no sooner had this wonderful ring been turned about three times and a half on the bunny boy's little finger than up came a little Black Man, who in less than a twinkling tripped up
the huge giant before he could do any harm to either the handsome prince or the brave little bunny.

"Ugh, ugh!" grunted the old
giant, struggling to get on his feet,
but before he had even risen to his knees, the little Black Man threw
a net over him. Like a great fish, caught in a net, the giant struggled and tumbled to get free, but at last gave up.

"What shall I do with him, little master?" asked the little Black Man.

"Leave him here," replied the little rabbit, with a grin. "Maybe by Christmas he'll be able to untangle himself."

Seeing that his services were no longer required, the little Black Man disappeared as suddenly as he had arrived. So back into the coach hopped the brave little bunny, and away it went, rumble, rattle, but not quite so swiftly as before, for the horse who had lost
a shoe was forced to run on three legs for fear of wearing out the stocking on his shoeless foot!

"Well, you certainly are a brave little rabbit," exclaimed the handsome prince. "When that great giant stopped the coach I felt our journey was over. But you never seemed to fear the giant,—no, not

for a moment."
"My magic ring gives me extra courage," chuckled the little bunny.
"But I had no idea in what shape help would come when I turned it around my finger." Just then a pretty white dove fluttered into the coach through the open window
and dropped a letter on the knee
of the handsome prince. And from whom do you suppose it was? Why, from his princess. Quickly unfolding the message, the prince
read aloud:

"I have waited long for you,
Handsome prince with eyes of blue.
I am made a captive here,
In a dungeon, cold and drear.
If this pretty snow white dove
Reaches you, whom I so love,
Hasten, rescue me, I pray,—
I shall die if you delay."

"Faster, faster!" commanded the prince, leaning from the window.
Crack! went the great whip and away dashed the coach-and-four,
the horse who had lost a shoe now
using all four legs and seeming to care little if he wore a hole in the sock on his shoeless foot. And in the next story you shall hear what happened after that.

SCIENCE LISTED

At Least Eight Men Have Given Their Lives in Quest
Of Knowledge.

NEW YORK (AP)—The names
of at least eight men have been added during the last year to the list of "martyrs of science"—research workers who have given their lives in the quest for knowledge.

Dr. Hideyo Noguchi, bacteriologist with the Rockefeller Foundation's West African yellow fever commission, was a victim of a disease whose organism he had succeeded in isolating. His passing recalled that Dr. Adrian Stokes, London pathologist, and R. Guillet,
a French scientist, had succumbed
to the fever a few months before while studying it in the same locality.

One X-Ray Death
Records kept by the American Association for Medical Progress
here show that five other men have given their lives for science in recent months. Dr. Alvin Alvin, a Brazilian roentgenologist, died on May 21 as the result of his experiments with X-rays, which mutilate
so many of the investigators who study them. Dr. Alvin had lost both hands.

Dr. Maxime Menard, French
roentgenologist, died in Paris from the effects of similar researches.

IN BANKRUPT CAR PLANT

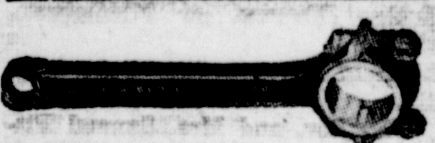

DETROIT—The Rickenbacker
Motor company's plant, recently sold under bankruptcy proceedings, is to be used as a factory for the manufacture of small, low-priced airplanes. The company intends to develop an output of 100 planes a day.

The Verville Aircraft company
is the name of the latest addition to Detroit's airplane industry. It anticipated adding a flying boat department also.

B. F. Everitt, identified with the automobile industry for a number of years, is president and general manager of the company. Alfred
V. Verville, an airplane designer, will be in charge of the engineering
work.

The Rickenbacker company was founded by Eddie Rickenbacker,
leading ace of the United States air forces in the world war, and a former automobile racing driver.

Beavers were once found in every country of Europe, except in Ire-

Seventeen men from town and vicinity took a civil service examination at the Gettysburg post-office last Saturday morning, for the position of rural carrier on Route 2, made vacant by the resignation of John F. Naugle.

ESTHONIAN DOCTOR HAS

SURE CURE FOR LEPROSY

AUDAKU, Oesel Island, Esthonia.—Four lepers have been discharged here as completely healed by Professor A. Paldrock of Tartu University. President Tomsson of Esthonia and other notables were present at the ceremony. The President delivered to the cured lepers a brief address and declared that they now regain all their civil rights of free citizens and are at liberty to move about where they please.

Professor Paldrock is well known to the scientists of Europe as a dermatologist. He used for his cure for leprosy the carbon dioxide snow which he applies with his own patented instrument and also a gold prescription.

TESTIMONIAL

Baltimore Lady had Neuritis

and Arthritis so bad.

This is what she says:

A few words of praise for your prescription Q-623. I have had a bad attack of Neuritis and Arthritis.

I had tried a number of remedies and have been under the doctor's care and seemed to get worse all the time. A friend told me about your prescription and three bottles of Q-623 has eliminated the pain and I can now use my hands and arms as the swelling has disappeared. I can heartily recommend Q-623 to anyone with arthritis and neuritis.

Out of the Past Happenings of Days Gone by as Chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times, the Files Reveal.

TEN YEARS AGO
Returns Home: Lieutenant
M, One Hundred and Twelfth Infantry, arrived home last night
from France on instruction duty.
He is a son of Harry W. Long, of Gettysburg. He was in the thick
of the fights from Chateau Thierry
to the Vesle river and says that the regiment displayed magnificent courage. He will go to Camp
Dix as an instructor.

Has Operation: Miss Carrie Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Huber Miller, of Steinwehr avenue,
underwent a successful operation
for appendicitis at her home Tuesday afternoon. The operation was performed by Dr. Hartman and two doctors from Camp Colt.

Becomes Inspector: James W.
Moore, for a number of years postmaster at Fairfield, has been appointed inspector by the State Highway Department and ordered
to report at Allentown.

To California: Mrs. J. W. Richard and Miss Esther Coffinberry,
of Springs avenue, started on Monday afternoon for California. They expect to spend the fall and winter months in San Francisco. On their way they will stop for several weeks in Kansas.

Gasless Sunday Observed Here:
Sunday before Labor Day, usually
one of the largest tourist days of the entire year, witnessed a de-
Fuel Administration's request
against pleasure traveling. Instead of thousands of automobiles on the avenues, there were only a few hundred, and most of their occupants were viewed with ill concealed displeasure by people who had fallen in line with the government's effort to conserve the supply of gasoline.

Big Enrollment as Schools Open:
With the largest enrollment in their history, the public schools of Gettysburg opened this morning.

At the High School the girls and boys found a decided change since
the close of school last June. All
Arts and Domestic Science departments has been removed and stored
in order to make room for the enlarged chemistry, physics and biology department taught by Mr.
Lefevre. The State Board of Education required that a full laboratory equipment for these studies be put in, and the local board had nothing to do but to move the equipment of the branches taught
by Miss Fox and Miss Myers.

The board is now trying to rent
a house where Domestic Science
and allied subjects can be taught satisfactorily.
in the High School. Miss Nellie
work.

The High School faculty has two teachers who were not on the force last year. Miss Anna Hake is vice principal and will teach history.
Miss Elsie Gerlach will have the English and French.
Only one other change is noted in the grades. Miss Lena Mark-ward, of Shippensburg, will be the teacher in the Third and Fourth grades at the Meade building.

Made Top Sergeant: William Eckert, who was inducted by the local board into the veterinary corps of the army, and went to Camp Lee some weeks ago, has now been selected as first sergeant.
Eight men were chosen out of a group of 2400.

Miller-Tudor: Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Virginia Townsend Tudor and Norman C. Miller, of Bristol, Pa., and Dunkirk, N. Y., by Rev. Harold Rodgers, of Market Square Presbyterian church, Harrisburg.

The bride was a former resident of Gettysburg and a graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1915. Since then she has been a teacher of languages in Slatington and Damascus.

Mr. Miller is at present head of the Engineering Department of the Bristol Shipbuilding Corporation.

Miss Lola M. Bowers, daughter of George and Alice Bowers, of Biglerville, and William Henry Kou-zer, of Gettysburg, now of Camp Meade, were married by their former pastor, Rev. S. A. Diehl. The ring service was used.

Prevented Wreck: Lay H. Mc-Clell, aged ten years, of Golden-found a badly broken rail at the pike crossing on Sunday afternoon, and reported it to the section foreman just in time to flag one of the big freight trains. The discovery, no doubt saved less of life and thousands of dollars loss of property.

Personals: Miss Margaret Coover, of Sanitary Ridge, has gone to Falls Creek, where she will take charge of the department of Latin, music and art in the Vocational School.

Paul Lehman, of Shippensburg, is a guest at the home of Prof. and Mrs. H. Milton Roth on Broadway.
Miss Lola Wierman and Miss Anna Miller are spending a short

THE MIND
He thought ten thousand curious thoughts
And only uttered a few,
What flashed behind the wall of his mind
Nobody ever knew.
And whether you'd injured him
carelessly
With a bitter word or cold
You never could tell, for he masked
it well
And he never told.

He kept the fire in his eyes aglow,
If ever he shaped
A thought unkind in his ordered

It never escaped.

COMMON COMMA GETS
MADISON, Wis.—E. E. Brossard, revisor of state statutes, blames much of the difficulty in interpreting laws upon the scarcely noticed but popular comma.
The comma's weakness in punctuation is its strength in legal confusion.
The revisers of statutes are authorized to clarify the construction of sentences in the law, but must not disturb the meaning. They find
the comma the most misused mark
and the one that occupies their attention the most.

Now, you remember in the last
story that a great giant had suddenly stopped the little bunny boy
and the handsome prince on their way to the latter's castle. The giant seemed to be a very unpleasant kind of a person, and when he lifted on high his great club, the little rabbit had thought it time to use the magic ring which the Fairy Queen had given him some umpty
seven stories ago. And no sooner had this wonderful ring been turned about three times and a half on
the bunny boy's little finger than up
came a little Black Man, who in-less than a twinkling tripped up
the huge giant before he could do
any harm to either the handsome prince or the brave little bunny.

"Ugh, ugh!" grunted the old
giant, struggling to get on his feet,
but before he had even risen to his knees, the little Black Man threw
a net over him. Like a great fish, caught in a net, the giant struggled and tumbled to get free, but at last gave up.

"What shall I do with him, little master?" asked the little Black Man.

"Leave him here," replied the little rabbit, with a grin. "Maybe
by Christmas he'll be able to un-
tangle himself."

Seeing that his services were no longer required, the little Black Man disappeared as suddenly as he had arrived. So back into the coach hopped the brave little bunny, and away it went, rumble,
rattle, but not quite so swiftly as before, for the horse who had lost
a shoe was forced to run on three legs for fear of wearing out the stocking on his shoeless foot!

"Well, you certainly are a brave
little rabbit," exclaimed the handsome prince. "When that great giant stopped the coach I felt our journey was over. But you never seemed to fear the giant,—no, not

for a moment."

"My magic ring gives me extra courage," chuckled the little bunny.
"But I had no idea in what shape
help would come when I turned it around my finger." Just then a pretty white dove fluttered into the coach through the open window
and dropped a letter on the knee
of the handsome prince. And from whom do you suppose it was?
Why, from his princess. Quickly unfolding the message, the prince
read aloud:

"I have waited long for you,
Handsome prince with eyes of blue.
I am made a captive here,
In a dungeon, cold and drear.

If this pretty snow white dove
Reaches you, whom I so love,

Hasten, rescue me, I pray,—
I shall die if you delay."

"Faster, faster!" commanded the prince, leaning from the window.
Crack! went the great whip and
away dashed the coach and four,
the horse who had lost a shoe now
using all four legs and seeming to care little if he wore a hole in the sock on his shoeless foot. And in the next story you shall hear what happened after that.

SCIENCE LISTED
At Least Eight Men Have Given Their Lives in Quest
Of Knowledge.

NEW YORK (AP)—The names
of at least eight men have been added during the last year to the list
of "martyrs of science"—research
workers who have given their lives
in the quest for knowledge.

Dr. Hideyo Noguchi, bacteriolo-
gist with the Rockefeller Foundation's West African yellow fever
commission, was a victim of a disease whose organism he had suc-
recalled that Dr. Adrian Stokes,
London pathologist, and R. Guillet,
a French scientist, had succumbed
to the fever a few months before while studying it in the same locality.

One X-Ray Death
Records kept by the American Association, for Medical Progress
here show that five other men have given their lives for science in recent months. Dr. Alvaro Alvin, a Brazilian roentgenologist, died on May 21 as the result of his experiments with X-rays, which mutilate
so many of the investigators who study them. Dr. Alvin had lost
both hands.

Dr. Maxime Menard, French
roentgenologist, died in Paris from
the effects of similar researches.

DETROIT—The Rickenbacker
Motor company's plant, recently
sold under bankruptcy proceedings,
is to be used as a factory for the manufacture of small, low-priced
airplanes. The company intends to develop an output of 100 planes a day.

The Verville Aircraft company
is the name of the latest addition
to Detroit's airplane industry. It anticipated adding a flying boat department also.

B. F. Everitt, identified with the automobile industry for a number of years, is president and general manager of the company. Alfred
V. Verville, an airplane designer,
will be in charge of the engineering
work.

The Rickenbacker company was founded by Eddie Rickenbacker,
leading ace of the United States
air forces in the world war, and a former automobile racing driver.

Beavers were once found in every country of Europe, except in Ireland.

TODAY'S TALK
THE SPLIT TREE
We went with our car and little typewriter, with our books and thoughts, into the mountains for a change of air and scene.
One day we stole away from the little town and climbed into high ground by way of a winding road. Then we stopped at a lovely place that was silent and beautiful with the gray blue of the distant mountains looking at us across beautiful Lake Champlain.
It was a spot of peace. Flowers of gold and blue and white nodded their heads in a sincere silence of welcome. We watched the grazing cows and saw fields of yellow grain waving like a sheet of silk far away.
But the most striking sight of all was a great tree beside the road where we had so casually stopped. In other days a storm had split that tree and a part of its great bulk had dropped, wounded to the ground. In the falling, however, this broken part had formed a great, strong support for the rest of the tree which stood because of its peculiar fall.
The years had healed the break where the tree's heart had been broken and this support upheld that massive growth. And the branches spread far and gave shelter to the beasts of the field and beauty to the road and all who beheld its presence.
Just a split tree. But, as I studied its life and growth against this misfortune which had come long years ago, I thought of the lives
that have been broken in the midst of the years and of the fallen
hopes and dreams—but which also form a support to the broken heart within the greater part which may stand the test of the years.
How many of us are just great split trees. Strong into our majurity—only to have something wound us to the heart.
But, perhaps that tree is stronger for that broken part which gives greater support, and perhaps we, too, are made stronger by the cruel thrust of fate.

Former Monarch's Adjutant General Declares Deposed Emperor Works Steadily.

COLOGNE (AP)—The former Kaiser works hard from early morning till late at night, declared Count von Finkenstein, the former monarch's adjutant general, in an address before the League of German Conservatives.

His estate at Doorn comprises about 30 acres, and to keep up a courtlike household the deposed emperor requires the services of four adjutants, with alternating shifts, who are said to have their hands full continually.

"I, for instance," the count declared, "have a secretary, whose time is entirely taken up with addressing and despatching letters." The four adjutants take turns representing the former kaiser at regimental commemorative functions.

Friendly With Family

William II is on the most friendly terms with all the members of his family, all of whom pay him regular visits, with the exception of his sister, the former Princess Victoria, who married Subkoff, the Russian emigre, and with whom all relations have been broken off.

"That woman should be put in a sanitarium. How can the doings of a Frau Subkoff concern the kaiser?" the count exclaimed, telling his hearers that he had personally kicked her emissary out of the house at Doorn.

The former kaiser's health on the whole was described as excellent, although it was admitted that the dampness of the Dutch climate had made him very susceptible to colds. In conclusion, the count remarked that Wilhelm would never return to Germany unless the German people called him.

HEALTH TALK

"The large increase in measles during the past twelve months is a manifestation of the periodic return of this disease in epidemic form which is likely to occur every third year. In many cities of the commonwealth the peak already has been reached. On the other hand there are numerous sections in Pennsylvania that have not shown a definite increase in this malady. These latter localities may reasonably expect a decided addition to their measles rate during the 1928-1929 season," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, secretary of health, today.

"However, all parents, whether or not they are living in communities already vigorously attacked by measles, should at all times carefully guard against the possibility of such infection on the part of their children. This can best be accomplished by avoiding contact with this type of illness.

"The first symptoms of this disease are affections of the eyes and nose similar to those usually associated with the common cold. It is at this time, before the appearance of the rash, that measles is highly communicable. Therefore, parents should, as far as possible, keep their children away from other youngsters manifesting these early symptoms.

"Many people falsely consider this disease lightly. While individual cases may be mild, the consequences frequently are serious. For example, it is well established that children who have had measles are particularly susceptible to tuberculosis for some time after the attack. Pneumonia, sinus trouble and ear affections are complications requiring prompt professional care.

"Children who have been unfortunate in contracting the disease should be taken regularly to their physician once a month for a few months immediately following the attack. In this manner the more insidious manifestations can be early discovered and efficiently treated.

Fliers Wore Colors Of French Woman

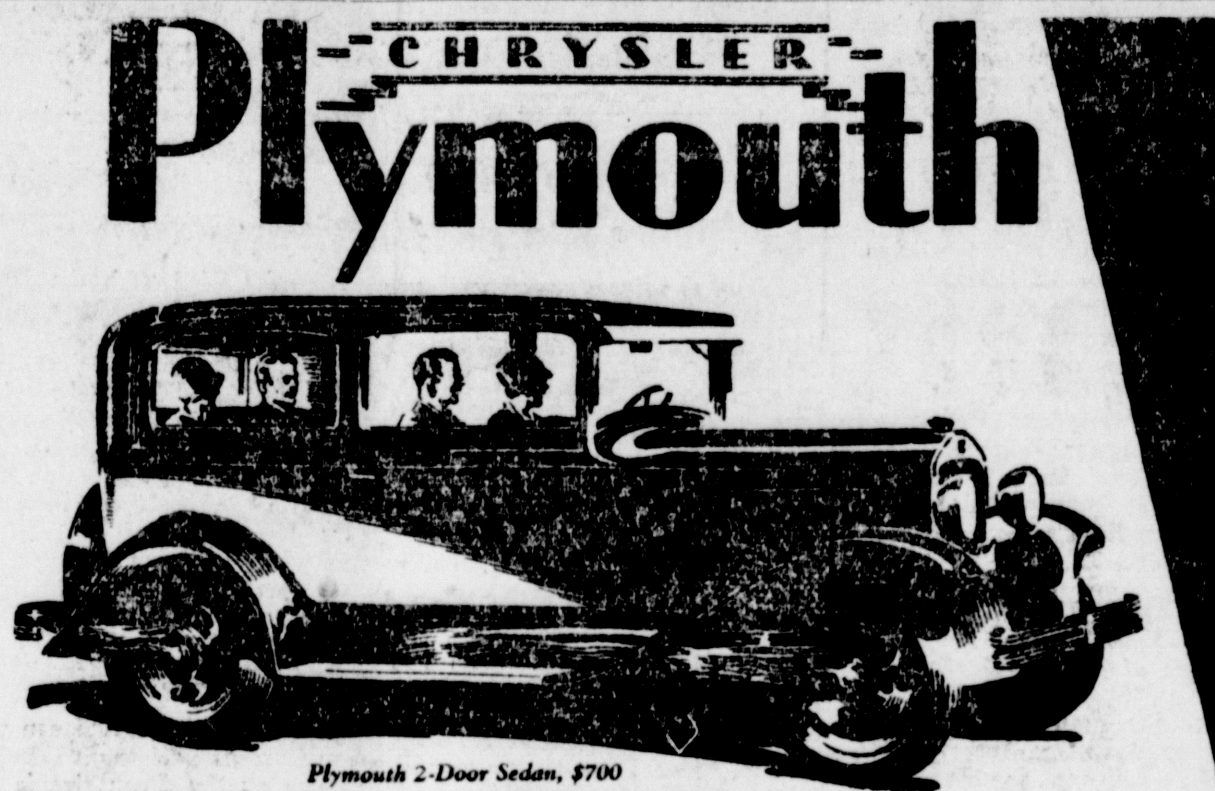

Paris.—(AP)—Like knights going to battle, the Polish aviators Camille Kubala and Ludwik Idzikowski wore the colors of a 60-year-old woman when they set out in their plane Marszalek Pilsudski to fly the Atlantic.

The woman is La Mere Françoise Prudhon, mother of the hotel keeper with whom the fliers stopped at Le Bourget while preparing for the flight on which they were forced back. She is an invalid and lives in a wheel chair.

"Mother" Prudhon kissed the two aviators goodbye and giving them ribbons which they wore tied to their scapulas as they took the air at Le Bourget. The bits of silk had been blessed on a pilgrimage she made years ago to the grotto at Lourdes.

Plymouth's Greater Dollar Value

Today's big news in the lowest-priced field is the landslide towards the new Plymouth.

Day by day, the millions who count the cost of motoring, realize more and more how clearly this great car by Chrysler, built for supremacy in the lowest-priced group, overshadows in actual dollar-for-dollar value the few other cars in its class.

They find the Plymouth presents vivid contrasts in size, style and luxury of finish which can be seen at a glance.

See the New Plymouth! Examine it critically.

You will at once know why Plymouth is today the new standard for measuring actual dollar value in the largest automobile market.

TESTIMONIAL

Baltimore Lady had Neuritis and Arthritis so bad. This is what she says:

A few words of praise for your prescription Q-623. I have had a bad attack of Neuritis and Arthritis. I had tried a number of remedies and have been under the doctor's care and seemed to get worse all the time. A friend told me about your prescription and three bottles of Q-623 has eliminated the pain and I can now use my hands and arms as the swelling has disappeared. I can heartily recommend Q-623 to anyone with arthritis and neuritis.

8468 GRADUATE FROM COLLEGES IN STATE IN '28

Fifty-Five Accredited Colleges and Universities Grant-ed 6,595 Degrees.

Pennsylvania colleges, universities and professional institutions awarded diplomas to 8,468 graduates during the commencement season last June.

Statistics filed with the Department of Public Instruction at Harrisburg, show that the fifty-five accredited colleges and universities in the State granted 6,595 baccalaureate degrees in art, education, music, science and vocational fields.

The following institution granted more than half the total number: University of Pennsylvania, 1,748; University of Pittsburgh, 1,600; Temple University, 835; Pennsylvania State College, 600; Carnegie Tech., 400.

Fourteen foresters received diplomas from the Mt. Alto State Forest School and seventeen young men were given degrees in military science at the Pennsylvania Military School, Chester.

The professional colleges of the State graduated a total of 1,801. At the six medical colleges, 459 doctors received degrees, Jefferson leading with 144. The five law schools graduated 381, the University of Pennsylvania having the largest number, 108. Dickinson ranked second with 92.

PILSUDSKI SEEKS REST FROM WORK IN COUNTRY

SULEJOWEK, Poland—The letters of Napoleon are the only printed matter which comes to the hand of Marshal Pilsudski, who is resting here at his little cottage from the effects of overwork.

Since the doctors ordered a complete rest, no official business or private business penetrates through the outer portals of the little white house where the Marshal is carrying on an existence according to routine.

He arises at nine in the morning and has his breakfast, consisting of two rolls with butter and tea, in bed. He shaves himself with an American razor and then walks in his garden, accompanied by his two wolf hounds.

SAYS EX-KAISER A HARD WORKER

Former Monarch's Adjutant General Declares Deposed Emperor Works Steady.

COLOGNE (AP)—The former Kaiser works hard from early morning till late at night, declared Count von Finkenstein, the former monarch's adjutant general, in an address before the League of German Conservatives.

His estate at Doorn comprises about 30 acres, and to keep up a courtlike household the deposed emperor requires the services of four adjutants with alternating shifts who are said to have their hands full continually.

"For instance," the count declared, "have a secretary, whose time is entirely taken up with addressing and despatching letters." The four adjutants take turns representing the former Kaiser at regimental commemorative functions.

Friendly With Family
William II is on the most friendly terms with all the members of his family, all of whom pay him regular visits with the exception of his sister the former Princess Victoria, who married Subkoff the Russian emigre, and with whom all relations have been broken off.

That woman should be put in a sanatorium. How can the dongs of a Frau Subkoff concern the Kaiser? the count exclaimed, telling his hearers that he had personally kicked her emissary out of the house at Doorn.

The former Kaiser's health on the whole was described as excellent although it was admitted that the dampness of the Dutch climate had made him very susceptible to colds. In conclusion, the count remarked that Wilhelm would never return to Germany unless the German people called him.

HEALTH TALK

"The large increase in measles during the past twelve months is a manifestation of the periodic return of this disease in epidemic form which is likely to occur every third year. In many cities of the commonwealth the peak already has been reached. On the other hand there are numerous sections in Pennsylvania that have not shown a definite increase in this malady. These latter localities may reasonably expect a decided addition to their measles rate during the 1928-1929 season," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, secretary of health, today.

"However, all parents, whether or not they are living in communities already vigorously attacked by measles should at all times carefully guard against the possibility of such infection on the part of their children. This can best be accomplished by avoiding contact with this type of illness.

"The first symptoms of this disease are affections of the eyes and nose similar to those usually associated with the common cold. It is at this time, before the appearance of the rash, that measles is highly communicable. Therefore, parents should, as far as possible, keep their children away from other youngsters manifesting these early symptoms.

"Many people falsely consider this disease lightly. While individual cases may be mild, the consequences frequently are serious. For example, it is well established that children who have had measles are particularly susceptible to tuberculosis for some time after the attack. Pneumonia, sinus trouble and ear affections are complications requiring prompt professional care.

"Children who have been unfortunate in contracting the disease should be taken regularly to their physician once a month for a few months immediately following the attack. In this manner the more insidious manifestations can be early discovered and efficiently treated.

BUZZARDS WELCOMED

MOLLEDO, Peru (AP)—The buzzard is a highly valued bird in the towns of the Pacific coast of South America. His propensities for eating rubbish make him an ideal scavenger, or garbage collector, and he is a greatly esteemed factor in keeping the towns clean.

Fliers Wore Colors Of French Woman

Paris.—(AP)—Like knights going to battle, the Polish aviators Camille Kubala and Ludwik Idzikowski wore the colors of a 60-year-old woman when they set out in their plane Marszalek Pilsudski to fly the Atlantic.

The woman is La Mere Francaise at Le Bourget. The bits of coarse Puidhon, mother of the hotel keeper with whom the fliers stopped at Le Bourget while preparing for the flight on which they were forced back. She is an invalid and lives in a wheel chair. "Mother" Puidhon kissed the two aviators goodbye and giving them ribbons which they wore tied to their scapulas as they took the silk had been blessed on a pilgrimage she made years ago to the grotto at Lourdes.

In 1859 when the present Pennsylvania State college was opened as the Fairmer's high school, there were 69 students on hand. The enrollment last year was 6,911, including the summer session.

CHRYSLER
Plymouth

Plymouth 2-Door Sedan, $700

Plymouth's Greater Dollar Value
Is changing the buying habits of thousands of motorists

Today's big news in the lowest-priced field is the landslide towards the new Plymouth.

Day by day, the millions who count the cost of motoring, realize more and more how clearly this great car by Chrysler, built for supremacy in the lowest-priced group, overshadows in actual dollar-for-dollar value the few other cars in its class.

Road performance tells an even more convincing story of power and speed, combined with unusual smoothness and safety. For the Plymouth is Chrysler-built and enjoys all the unique advantages of Chrysler Standardized Quality.

See the New Plymouth! Examine it critically.
